HEARST PUBLISHED LETTERS CONFIRMED BY ARCHBOLD

STANDARD OIL PRESIDENT ADMITS AUTHENTICITY OF MAJORITY OF LETTERS RECENTLY PUBLISHED

Documents Made Public By Hearst Are Admitted As Genuine By Archbold---Declares $100,000 Was Given Campaign Fund Of 1904---Hilles On Stand Concerning Statement Regarding Roosevelt Primary Expenditures.

Washington, Oct. 10—The authenticity of the majority of the letters recently made public by William R. Hearst purporting to have passed between John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company and members of the house and senate was admitted by Mr. Archbold today before the senate committee investigation campaign activities and expenditures. Those letters of which facsimile photographs have been published were in almost every case identified by Mr. Archbold with the statement:

"I undoubtedly wrote that."

These included letters to and from Senators Hanna, Foraker, Quay and Penrose, and former Representatives Sibley of Pennsylvania and Grosvenor of Ohio. Many letters, Mr. Arhbold said, he did not remember but he recognized handwriting and signatures, and admitted their genuineness. The president of the Standard Oil company, recalled by the committee after making his charge in August that he had given $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund of 1904, admitted today that the receipt given by Cornelius N. Bliss for the sum had been destroyed by himself and H. H. Rogers, now dead. He said he had not been able to find even a book entry of the amount on the books of the Standard Oil.

"I repeat that the money was paid," he said, "and it was not refused, that it was paid by me to Mr. Bliss. I don't want any man to tell me that it was not paid."

Will Search For Record.

On the suggestion of Senator Pomerene the committee finally asked Mr. Archbold to have expert accountants search the books of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its former associates to try and find the record of the $100,000 having been paid out.

"May I raise the question of how important it is to find that entry?" Mr. Archbold asked.

"There is no manner of question that the money was given."

"There is some question whether it was paid," returned Senator Pomerene, "and there is a statement made that it was refunded. We want all the evidence we can get."

Hilles Also a Witness.

Charles B. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, also was a witness today and was asked by Chairman Clapp if he gave out a statement in August that the primary fight for Colonel Roosevelt had cost the Harvester trust millions of dollars.

"I assume the responsibility for it," he answered.

His explanation was given to the committee in the form of a letter he had just written to George W. Perkins, who with Senator Dixon, demanded that Mr. Hilles be called to account for this statement. The letter expressed the opinion that Col. Roosevelt's pre-convention campaign expenses undoubtedly amounted to not less than $2,000,000.

The letter which Hilles read to the committee asserted that witnesses had already testified to giving $667,000 for the Roosevelt campaign; that expenses in different states and throughout the country would make the total he gave. Chairman Clapp questioned the witness sharply as to his information and Mr. Hilles said it consisted of his general knowledge of what the Roosevelt workers had been doing, and his specific knowledge of what certain kinds of campaign activity cost.

Names of More Contributors.

He gave the committee no new information regarding contributions to the Taft pre-convention fund except a list of the contributors to the fund raised in Chicago, the total of which Representative McKinley had included in his statement earlier in the week. These were:

H. M. Bilsby, $1,000.
George M. Reynolds, $5,000.
Julius Rosenwald, $5,000.
Max Pam, $2,500.
J. A. Patten, $1,000.
J. G. Shade, $500.
Henry Seigels, $500.
J. B. Otis, $500.
Max Hart, $250.
A. G. Becker, $250.
Fred S. James, $100.

Archbold Not Cross-examined.

Mr. Archbold's identification of the various letters was followed by little questioning by the committee. He said the money referred to in some of them had been for legal services in the state of Ohio; that he wrote to Senator M. A. Hanna to watch legislative affairs there because Mr. Hanna had been a life long friend, and that a contribution of $1,000 to Senator Quay had been entirely a political contribution as had the $25,000 contribution to Senator Penrose.

He did not know to whom Mr. Sibley had referred in the letter saying that a certain senator had requested a loan of $1,000 and asking if Mr. Archbold wanted to make the investment. He said he did not send the $1,000, had no talk with Sibley about it, and did not know to whom the statement related. Mr. Archbold presented four new letters that he had found as the result of a search of his files, the only ones he said, "that had escaped the thieves." One was from President Roosevelt. "It is of no value but I offer it as showing the friendly attitude of Mr. Roosevelt in 1904, at a period when he has indicated he considered me under the ban," Mr. Archbold said. The letter in full was as follows:

White House, April 26, 1904.

My Dear Mr. Archbold:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 25th and shall carefully take up the name of your brother-in-law with the hope that i can promote him.

Sincerely Yours,
Theodore Roosevelt.

Other Letters and Telegrams.

The other letters and telegrams related to one recently made public by Mr. Hearst in which Congressman Sibley wrote Mr. Archbold that Roosevelt was anxious to see him, and advising him to come to Washington and take luncheon with the president. The letters addressed to Mr. Sibley expressed Mr. Archbold's regret that he could not come and expressed the hope that he might later visit the president. Mr. Archbold told the committee that he did not go to the white house till January, 1904.

"Mr. Roosevelt on the stand before this committee put me in the peculiar attitude of having been brought to luncheon with him in 1908 at Oyster Bay by Senator Bourne," Mr. Archbold said.

Was Invited to White House.

He said that on a visit to the white house, President Roosevelt had spoken of the return of Mr. Archbold's daughter and son-in-law from Africa.

"'I must have you bring them over,'" the president said, according to Mr. Archbold; and the latter added that they went on the day appointed to Oyster Bay, at the invitation of Col. Roosevelt. Mr. Archbold declared the letters made public by Mr. Hearst had been stolen from the files of his office, but he declined to name those whom he suspected of the theft. He said he believed the letters contained "nothing that is subject to just criticism," and that they were such letters as a man in a position like mine would write to men in representative positions.

Has no Apology to Make.

"I never made a request of any man that meant the infaction of an existing law, or the making of any new law or the giving of any special privilege," he said. "Of course conditions have changed the campaign, the campaign publicity laws since made have changed things; but the other matters in the letters, I would repeat today. I have no apology to make.

He declared it was amazing that the man in Roosevelt's position would make the assertion that because of this contribution of money to Senator Penrose for campaign purpose. Mr. Penrose should be expelled from the senate."

"It is a monstrous thing to say," Mr. Archbold said. The letter sent by Republican Chairman Hilles to George W. Perkins and given to the senate committee today was in part as follows:

Hilles' Letter.

"In your letter of recent date you question my assertion that millions of dollars of Harvester money were expended in the effort to nominate Mr. Roosevelt.

"The public has not been furnished with statements as to sums received and disbursed by you and your allies. But there are other ways of ascertaining the amounts expended and particularly by estimating the easily ascertainable cost of things that were done. Five or six of Mr. Roosevelt's witnesses already have admitted that they expended approximately $667,000."

The letter stated that this was exclusive of the money spent in a great number of states, which are named, and in which Mr. Hilles said a hard Roosevelt fight was made. He said that in addition, "enormous sums were spent by the Roosevelt management in fomenting strife and creating nearly 200 contests in the southern states and in transporting the fictitious claimants to Chicago and paying their hotel expenses while there."

Expended Enormous Sums.

"There was evidence on every hand," the letter continued, "of the expenditure of large sums of money in Mr. Roosevelt's behalf and his pre-convention campaign expenses nearly amounted to $2,000,000. As the assertion that harvester money was used, Mr. Hilles said in his letter to Perkins that the latter has been an active figure in the international Harvester company and that as chairman of the finance committee to all intents and purposes you have been the harvester trust.

"There is a fact full of significance," the letter said, "namely, that the harvester trust itself is silent as to whether it has contributed anything. It permits you, however, to go on with your political activities and to bring its affairs conspicuously into public notice.

"Why does it do this, unless it is itself interested in your endeavor? Whether justly or not your conduct is subjecting it to the suspicion that it is trying to elect Mr. Roosevelt in order that it can get rid of government prosecution.

TAKING TESTIMONY IN BECKER TRIAL

HUNGARIAN WAITER FIRST WITNESS EXAMINED.

Identifies "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie" and "Whitey Lewis" as Actual Slayers of Rosenthal—"Red Phil" Davidson Indicted.

New York, Oct. 10.—The trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, began in earnest today. The jury was completed with the selection of the twelfth juror, District Attorney Whitman making his opening address for the people and the taking of testimony was begun.

Louis Krause, a Hungarian waiter was called by the state as an eye witness to the murder and identified "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louis" and "Whitey Lewis" as the actual slayers of the gambler. As to "Dago Frank" the fourth of the gunmen indicted for the murder, Krause was not certain, but he identified Jack Sullivan, one of Becker's alleged tools, as the man who bent over Rosenthal's body as it lay on the sidewalk in front of the Hotel Metropole on the night of July 16th.

Although counsel for the defense spent two hours in cross-examination the witness stuck to his story. Justice Goff finally stopped the lawyers' questions.

"I don't think it is conductive to the interests of justice further to examine this witness; discharge the witness."

During the proceedings the justice indicated that he would allow wide scope in the introduction of evidence bearing upon graft in the "Red Phil" Davidson, slayer of "Big Jack" Zelig, another gunman, was indicted today for first degree murder.

M'MANIGAL IDENTIFIED BY HOTEL CLERKS

Government Charges He Was Paid $200 Per "Job" by Executive Board of Iron Workers.

Indianapolis, Oct. 10.—For the first time since he confessed to dynamiting, Ortie McManigal, before a jury in the dynamite conspiracy trial today, was identified by hotel clerks as having visited various cities at times when explosions occurred. The line of testimony was followed by the government as tending to carry out McManigal's confession that he actually caused the explosions detailed in his confession and for which the government charges that the executive board of the iron workers paid him at the rate of $200 a "job."

The activities of James B. McNamara on his return to Indianapolis after blowing up the Los Angeles Times building were also traced in hotel registers.

In presenting great bundles of telegrams which were identified by managers of telegraph offices from many parts of the country, but the contents of which were withheld until later, the government attorneys announced it would be shown that arrangements for the Pacific coast explosions were carried on by telegraph.

TAFT VISITS DUBLIN.

Makes Several Non-political Speeches and is Guest of President Nichols of Dartmouth.

Dublin, N. H., Oct. 10.—President Taft swung south from Bratton Woods, N. H., to Dublin, making more than 150 miles in ten hours with stops for many short non-political talks. It was one of the longest runs of the presidential automobile tour of New England. The president, Mr. Taft and Miss Boardman were guests at luncheon of President E. F. Nichols of Dartmouth college at Hanover. The president made a speech to the students. A few hours later he addressed at Keene the largest crowd that has greeted him on the trip. Tonight the president and his party were guests at the summer home of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. They will leave tomorrow for Beverly.

OCTOGENARIAN DEAD.

Sterling, Ill., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Serena Sanders, 100 years old, died at her home to day in Grand Detourr.

JOHNSON HAS BROTHER ARRESTED

CLAIMS PROSECUTION IS EVIDENCE OF "BROTHERLY LOVE."

Pugilist Charges Brother With Grand Larceny, Forgery, Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses and a Few Other Counts.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, had his brother, Charley, arrested here today, charging him with grand larceny, forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses and a few other counts, and claimed that the prosecution was an evidence of "brotherly love."

The champion swore out the warrant and appeared against his brother in the municipal court. These are the charges back enumerated against Charley:

Purchasing automobile tires from a local concern and charging the $180 to Jack Johnson.

Decking himself in a gorgeous brown and red check suit and paying for the same with a check to which he signed the name "Jack Johnson."

Obtaining a supply of electric light bulbs from an electrical concern and again signing the champion's name.

Writing a letter to Jack's attorney and requesting the loan of $20 for "your friend Jack."

Johnson says he did not get any of the $20.

The worst thin that Charley did, according to Jack's testimony, was to borrow $20 on an automobile tire.

"He wrote a receipt on the tire in my name," Jack said. "He promised to redeem the tire and didn't do so. He also tried to get his hands on $2,000 worth of sable that belonged to my dead wife but I didn't let him get away with that.

"Its just a case of too much brotherly love on my part. I let him have lots of money and then he goes and fourfloushes around and sponges on my friends. So I'm having him taken into court for his own protection. Ain't it better that I protect him than somebody else? Ain't that brotherly love?

"What gets to me is that people should take that boy for me and think he's the world's champion."

Charley is 23 years old and undersized.

"I ain't no fighter," is his frequent remark. "My eyes are too prominent. It pains me to get hit on them."

Mrs. Tiny Johnson, mother of Jack and Charley, was in court and pleaded for her erring son, but Jack would not give way and Judge Newcomer declared that he could not listen to her.

"This case is being conducted under Marquis of Queensbury rules," he said.

Charley demanded a jury trial.

COLONEL CRITISIZES WILSON STATEMENTS

Roosevelt Speaks in Duluth and Attacks Democratic Candidate.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 10.—Woodrow Wilson's writings on immigration were criticised tonight by Col. Roosevelt, who charged that the Democratic presidential candidate had ocered explanations of his views of such a character that he did not see how any man could be exhibited to believe them. He also criticised Governor Wilson for a statement attributed to him that the United States steel corporation was supporting the Progressive ticket.

Col. Roosevelt came here today from Michigan, stopping an hour on the way at Superior. The auditorium here was thronged when Col. Roosevelt arrived tonight and another hall was thrown open to the crowd. The colonel spoke in both buildings and then left for Oshkosh, Wis., where he is to deliver an address tomorrow night.

During his speech he quoted a statement by a Wall street news agency to the effect that a director of the United States steel corporation had said that if the colonel got the votes of three of the tweny-three directors of the corporation he would be lucky.

"This is an authoritative statement in the matter," the speaker continued, "although if I get three votes it will be exactly three times as many as I expect. Mr. Wilson's statement that the steel trust men are supporting me even in their 'thought' is not in accordance with the facts.

"Mr. Wilson should learn that it is more manly to attack on the straightforward fashion rather than by innudo or indirection."

KILLED IN WRECK.

One Trainman Dead and Another Fatally Injured in Burlington Freight Collision at Keokuk.

Keokuk, Ia., Oct. 10.—Fred Nelson of Keokuk, fireman of one train, was killed, and Harry Hughes, fireman of the other, was fatally injured tonight in a head-on collision between two Burlington freight trains in the yards here. Hughes was caught in the wreck in such a manner that his foot had to be amputated to release him and save him from being scalded to death by escaping steam. Several other members of the crew are slightly injured.

It is stated that the accident was the result of a mistake by the switching crew, the regular freight having the right of way. The engineers of both trains jumped in time to escape injury.

Traffic was tied up for several hours.

DECLARES COLONEL IS SELF-CENTERED

BRYAN ASSAILS ROOSEVELT AT GRAND RAPIDS.

States That He was so Born that He Can't ConceiveThat There is Anybody Who Does Any Good but Him self.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 19.—Assailing Col. Roosevelt for his alleged unfairness to Senator LaFollette in his pre-convention campaign, W. J. Bryan addressed a larrgeaudience here to night, winding up his tour of North Dakota.

"Senator LaFollette," Mr. Bryan said, "has always beena real progressive and Rooseveltalways has been fighting him." If Col. Roosevelt had been in control at the Chicago convention, Mr. Bran contended, he would have pursued thesame policy as that adopted by President Taft's forces.

"I do not know of a political boss" he continued, "who helped President Taft at the convention to whom Roosevelt did not owe a debt for past performances."

At Fargo Mr. Bryan addresseed a large afternoonmeeting, after having spoken before a gathering of sevehal hundredwomen in themorning on the high cost of living. In the afternoon speech Mr. Bryan declared that Col. Roosevelt had lost an opportunity to make himself strong in the regards of the Americaan people by his failuruето recommend Senator La Follette as the man to fill the needof a progressive as the Republican nominee forpresident. Mr. Roosevelt is unfortunate, Mr. Bryan said.

"He was so bornr that hecan't conceive that there is anybody who does any good but himself. There isn't a man in the Progressive party for whom he would votefor president; there isn't a man in the party for wrom he would leave the Republican party but himself."

MOST OF ELECTORAL DISPUTES SETTLED

Republican National Committee Announces States in Which Adjustment Has Been Made.

New York, Oct. 10.—With the settlement of the Pennsylvania electoral dispute by the substitution of Taft electors for Roosevelt men at Harrisburg electoral controversies in different states, the Republican national committee announced tonight, have been satisfactorily adjusted with the exception of that in California, where the Roosevelt electors remain in the Republican ticket. The following summary of states in which the situation has been cleared up was given out:

Illinois—Four original Roosevelt electors resigned and their places filled with Taft men named by the state committee.

Indiana—One elector understood to be a Roosevelt follower supplanted by Taft man named by state committee.

Iowa—Two Roosevelt men resigned. Taft men in their places.

Maryland—All Roosevelt electors removed and Taft men substituted by state committee.

Minnesota—Five Roosevelt men resigned. Taft men named.

Nebraska—Taft electors go on ballot by petition.

Kansas—Roosevelt electors resigned. Taft men named.

Ohio—Six Roosevelt electors resigned. Taft men substituted.

Oklahoma—Two of the ten electors are Roosevelt men, but have agreed to vote for Taft if he carries the stae.

Oregon—Four of the five electors are Taft men. Fifth announced he would vote for Taft if Republicans carry the state.

South Dakota—Taft men will be named by petition.

WOULD DESTROY THE TRUSTS.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 10.—The destruction of the trusts, not their control or regulation by thefederal government was the remedy proposed by Governor Marshall of Indiana, Democratic vicepresidential candidate, who spokehere to night. He declared the corporations, great and small, were thecreatures of the state and not thefederal government and that theyre amendable to the state laws and not laws mademiles away from the states.

STRIKERS POISONED.

New York, Oct. 10.—Twelve striking book binders housed in a building wherea strike is in progress, were takeen ill to night shortly after they had eaten food furnished by a restaurant in the enighborhood. Two of the men were taken to a hospital, their conditions being considered dangerous. Theothers were attended by ambulancesurgeons and remained in the building. An investigation will be made by the police and physicians say some form of poison was given the men.

PLAY TO STANDSTILL.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The freshmen held the 'varsity to a 6 to 6 tie in the University of Chicago scrimmage practice here today. Coach Stagg said Iowa would have little trouble in scoring against the Maroons unless conditions improve. He is giving all his attention to the line this week.

GREETS CHEERING CHICAGO THRONGS

Chicago, Oct. 10.—All factions of Illinois Democracy marched side by side to day and cheered Governor Woodrow Wilson, the standard bearer of the party.

From the moment of arrival until late to night, when the governor departed for Canton and Oroville, Ohio, his reception was one of noisy demonstration and enthusiasm. As he rode through the densely crowded street of the business district on his arrival he stood in his automobile ing mass of persons who trailed and waved to thousands who dotted the windows of buildings and a movalong beside him.

The governor recovered his voice sufficiently to make an extended speech at the theatre at noon, but was unable to reach the crowd that gathered at the Seventh Regiment armoryr to night. The theatre where the governor spoke at noon was jammed from gallery to pit. The cheering developed into a prolonged demonstration and the governor tried to quiet the crowd to begin his speech.

"Put them out, putu them out," protested voices from the balconies.

"No, no, don't put anybody out," the governor said quickly and the crowd quieteditself.

"I have been greatly exhilerated as I passed from one part of this great nation to another," the nominess said, "by the gross cheers of the people that greet me. The cheers are not going to settle this contest. Steadfast principles, clear vision, fearless thinking are going to save this nation and nothing else, and therefore it is my duty, whenever I have the privilege of facing an audience, to call their atention to the very serious issues which are at stake, for in my judgment, they arenothing less for America than the issues of life and death."

Once during the governor's speech a voice in the gallery called "Hurrah for Teddy," just as the speaker began to take up the planks in the Progressive party.

"'Just wait a minute," the governor said, "'and see if you'll feel the same way after I have explained"

Governor Wilson then lauded that part of the Progressive platform which advocated humanitarian and social reforms, but declared that the failure of the same platform to condemn monopolies and pronounce itself explicitly in favor of tariff reform madeit necessary to ask by whom and how the social parts of the program were to be accomplished. The governor emphasized "who and how" in his question and the crowd responded with cheers of approval.

Governor Wilson went to the Iroquois club for an informal luncheon, stopped at theSouthern club for an other and held a public reception at a hotel.

In his armory address Governor Wilson praised the immigrants from southern Europe.

"I reflect," he said, "with pride upon the great body of people that have come to this country with the love of liberty in their hearts, not only the Irish people but the liberty-loving men and women from every civilized country of the globe, the people of liberty-loving Poland where so much blood has been shed in the cause of human rights; the ancient Italian people, whose love for liberty runs back to the days of the Roman republic, the Slavic people, the peoples out of Sicily, the people from every border of the globe who have come to America in order to be free.

"They came to fight against the arbitrary power of governments; the arbitrary control of the aristocracy."

PREACH NEW DOCTRINE.

Speakers at Missionary Council Declare "If People Will Not Come to Church We Must Take the Church to Them.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—"If the people will not come to church we must take the church to them." This new doctrine for Episcopalians was preached today by a number of speakers here in attendance upon council of the fifth missionary department of the Episcopal church.

Bishop Edward W. Osborne of Springfield, Ill., said the chief need of his diocese, where so many persons of all nationalities are dependent upon mining industry, is women to go about the small settlements teaching the mothers how to care for their growing daughters.

The next meeting of the council will be in Detroit.

REFEREE STOPS BOUT.

Fon du Lac, Wic., Oct. 10.—The scheduled ten round bout between Cyclone Johnny Thompson of Sycamore, Ill., claimant of the world's middle weight championship and Art Godfrey of Minneapolis was stopped in the eight round by the referee tonight to save Godfrey from' punishment. Though handicaped by twenty pounds less weight Godfrey put up a game fight and still was on his feet and willing when the battle was ended.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 10.—Grover Moulton, aged 17 who with his father David Moulton, took refuge in a barn near this city during a thunderstorm today, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The elder Moulton was badly stunned by the shock.

INITIAL VICTORY FOR MONTEREGRO

CAPTURE A STRONG TURKISH POSITION ON MOUNTAIN.

Situration Still Puzzles as no War Declaration Has Been Issued by Other Balkan States.

London, Oct. 10.—Montenegro claims the first victory in the Balkan war by the capture of the strong Turkish position on Detchitch mountain, whose commander surrendered today with the bulk of his forces.

Montenegrins also crossed the frontier near Berana, and, according to the Turkish account, have been repulsed. The situation meanwhile is as puzzling as before. No declaration of war has been issued by theo ther allied Balkan states, and there is no news yet of their ministers having left Constantinople. It cannot therefore be definitely said whether Montenegro has acted independently, with the motive of forcing a conflict so as to render the powers' efforts to preserve peace neugatory or in accordance with a strategic plan arranged by the Balkan coalition.

Bulgarian Attacks Reported.

Fresh BBulgarian attacks on Turkish frontier towns are reported tonight and the opinion is growing that the opposing parties are only using diplomatic delays to concentrate thei rforces in readiness for the inevitable outbreak.

The statement of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Count von Berchtholdt in the Hungarian delegation today that Austria is prepared to guard her interests in the Balkans at all hazards has caused a sensation in European capitals, as an indication that the powers may be unable to confine themselves to the policy of merely holding the ropes.

Forces Battled Thirty Hours.

Podgoritza, Montenegro, Oct. 10.—The Montenegrins have captured Detchitch mountain. The Turkish commander and officers with many soldiers have surrendered.

For the last thirty hours the battle between the Montenegrin forces, under command of King Nicholas and Turkish troops strongly entrenched in the hills, has been in progress.

Meanwhile a great battle was proceeding near the Turkish town of Tushi about 15 miles south of here. The Turkish commander on Detchitch with his officers and a majority of his troops surrendered.

The Montenegrins captured four guns. There were heavy losses on both sides.

Propose Discussion of Reforms.

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—The collective note of the five powers was handed to the Turkish foreign minister by the European representative today. It is said th note embodies an offer to discuss with the Porte the realization of reforms in European Turkey on the basis of the declarations of Rumalian commissions of 1880.

The belief is held here that it will be impossible for the powers to prevent a general conflict. According to an official report the Montenegrins have sustained a defeat in their attack on Bereana. But the fighting continues in that district. It is reported also that the Bulgarian attack against Soguchuk and Yonikepehin, the Dospatt region has been repulsed. The Bulgarian posts in the Timrush zone have been reinforced. Corresponding measures are being adopted by the Turks.

Montenegrins Near Scutari.

London, Oct. 10.—According to late advices, the capture of Detichich mountain leaves nothing between the Montenegrin forces and Scutari except a small Turkish garrison at Tushi. Unless the Turks bring up heavy re-inforcements by water from Scutari the Montengrins with 10,000 men can advance along the olain of the north shore of the lake and get within striking distance of Scutari.

King Nicholas it is added always coveted Scutari, and now nas the chance of a life-time. His success, however, will incur Austria's displeasure. The situation at Bereana is serious. The garrison is defending the town against the Montenegrins and a sanguinary engagement is proceeding.

A despatch from Serayevo, Bosnia, says that the sound of field guns is heard at Fotcha.

According to news from Vienna, Servia has already delivered her ultimatum to Turkey. This however, has not been confirmed.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES

They Don't Remain Soft Very Long After the Shedding.

The supply of soft crabs for market is obtained by catching hard crabs and keeping them until they shed their shells.

For this purpose large rectangular floats, made of laths and planking, are employed, and three or four times every day the stock on hand is carefully inspected, all the soft crabs being picked out and packed without delay. They are put into shallow boxes of moist seaweed, from ten to thirty-five dozen in a box, according to the size of the animals.

When the packing is done carefully the occupants may be kept alive from sixty to seventy hours after leaving the water.

Crabs have been shipped all the way from the Chesapeake to Canada, arriving at their destination in good condition. In summer, of course, ice is used.

But where soft crabs are concerned it is necessary that they shall reach the market quickly, because their new shells harden with great rapidity. At the end of twelve hours the shells are like parchment, and in three or four days the crab is as hard as ever—hence unfit for use in the form most highly approved by epicures.—New York Herald.

DICKENS AS HE WORKED.

During Long Walks He Evolved the Plots of His Stories.

Every Christmas and every summer for twenty years Marcus Stone, R. A., the English painter, used to visit Charles Dickens at his various homes, especially at Gadshill, near Rochester.

"Dickens," says Stone in his reminiscences, "was one of the greatest and kindest men I ever met. He was imbued with the true Christian spirit. What particularly struck me at Gadshill was the atmosphere of calm and comfort one felt at once on entering the house.

"At 3 o'clock every afternoon we used to have a twenty mile walk in the country round. Dickens spoke but little while walking, and this after a time led me to discover the secret of his amazing industry. He sat only for a few hours at his desk, and I always wondered how he could be so prolific an author.

"Well, owing to his taciturnity in our country walks I began to suspect that it was then he evolved most of the plots of his novels. His brain was active all the time and the task of reproducing on paper the things he imagined and thought about became more or less a mechanical process."

Russian Discipline.

During the review of the army recruits in Vilna some years ago the general in command, turning to one of the new soldiers, asked him, "What is military discipline?"

"It is that a soldier has got to do just what he's told by his superior officer, only nothing against the czar," was the answer.

"All right, then. You take your cap, bid your comrades goodby and go and drown yourself in that lake there. Look sharp!"

Tears glistened in the soldier's eyes. He gazed earnestly and prayerfully at his commander, turned suddenly about and rushed off to the lake. He was on the very brink before he was overtaken and stopped by the sergeant sent to prevent the involuntary suicide.

Result of Intense Emotion.

A young cat was seen to catch his first mouse. As he was carrying it in triumph to the house he suddenly became paralyzed in the hind quarters and for an hour remained stretched on the ground. Then movement returned, but it was observed from the way he knocked himself against the furniture and made no effort to take food which was given to him that he was blind. For two hours he remained in this condition. Finally the blindness suddenly vanished, and pussy was himself again. His was a case of hysterical paralysis, brought on by the intense emotion of his first mouse.

Good Ladies' Horse.

"You told me he was a good ladies' horse," angrily said the man who had made the purchase.

"He was," replied the deacon. "My wife owned him, and she is one of the very best women I ever knew."—Exchange.

Not Again.

Hias (who has been punished several times for malicious mischief, reading on the fire alarm box, "Break the glass!")—"No, no! You can't fool me!"—Filegende Blatter.

Couldn't Listen Continuously.

"John, you never listen to half the things I say to you," she complained.

"Well, dear," he replied, "I have to work part of the time."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Consolation.

"They tell me the baby looks exactly like me."

"But babies, you know, often outgrow these likenesses."—Baltimore American.

Rather Strong.

Work is not hard. It is the eyes that are afraid of it.

Conservation

There's lot of talk these days about conserving the forests and other national resources and it's important talk, too. That's a national interest. But the question that has a more personal interest is that of conserving one's own resources.

USING GOOD MATERIALS

One sure way of private "conservation" is to use the best materials when you build. Using the best in Jax means building with our lumber. There is something individual about Crawford lumber. Every piece has been selected with care and will stand the severe test of time.

REPORT MADE BY MILK COMMITTEE

The Morgan County Medical society held its regular monthly meeting at the Medical library Thursday night. Fifteen members were present, including Dr. H. A. Haskell of Lynnville and Dr. G. O. Webster of Murrayville.

Dr. Reid presented the paper of the evening. This related to the important phases of obstetric practice and was given in Dr. Reid's original manner. An interesting discussion followed the paper.

The committee appointed several months ago to investigate the purity and source of the city's milk supply made a report as follows:

First—The city milk supply is derived from many sources, consisting of many small retail dealers and from the Jacksonville Creamery Co., which controls perhaps one-half the retail trade.

Second—There is practically no supervision of the milk supply except as personal interests dictate.

Third—No one holds a license to test milk.

Fourth—The Jacksonville Creamery company claims to be making a strong effort to improve the quality of milks handled by them and refuse to handle milk that does not come up to a certain standard as to quality and care of handling.

Fifth—In general many sources of milk are questionable, many cows questionable, care of cows and milk questionable. No means of looking after conditions.

Sixth—Shurtliff's law forbids small towns from enforcing the tuberculosis tests of cows.

Seventh—No city ordinance in operation report adopted. Committee retained and asked at a later meeting to suggest measures for improving quality of milk as well as testing cows.

J. H. S. NOTES.

Much interest centers about the high school football game to take place Saturday with Western Military Academy at Alton as an opponent. On account of Friday being a holiday at the high school, because of the state fair, a mass meeting was held Thursday afternoon. Among the speakers were Prof. R. O. Stoops, Capt. Stewart, Jackson and Woods. The football boys are going to put up a strenuous fight to retrieve the loss of the game with Taylorville last Saturday.

At a recent meeting of the Nautilus board, William Allcott was appointed business manager for the ensuing year.

Pure Flavoring Extracts

If you buy flavoring extracts by price and quality you will give us your business.

The trade with one accord concede us leadership in goods of this character.

WE ARE SPECIALISTS TODAY—In that we are manufacturing our own extracts. These extracts are made in our own pharmacy by our pharmacist, R. N. Kuechler, and only the purest of fruits and juices are utilized.

It has been our constant endeavor to reduce the selling price of extracts and at the same time to keep up the high quality. To day our extracts are of absolute and guaranteed purity and for this very purity and strength they far excell in quality extracts sold in fancy bottles and cartons. Strength and purity are the real essentials of value in extracts and measured by this standard the Roberts extracts are unsurpassed.

We specialize on extracts because of the especial advantages we have for manufacturing them and we specialize in flour and coffee because we were fortunate in selecting "SLEEPY EYE" flour as the very highest grade flour and in securing the source of our now admittedly high class SIX BLENDS.

Our offerings of fresh and green goods in vegetables and fruits is complete to day and every day.

FAIR VISITOR IS ASPHYXIATED

John Wilson of Roodhouse Dies at Springfield—Probably Opened Jet in Attempt to Turn on Electric Light.

Springfield, Oct. 10.—Accidentally turning on the gas jet and then retiring for the night, was responsible for the asphyxiation of John Wilson, aged 46 years, of Roodhouse, whose dead body was found this morning in the kitchen of the home of L. P. Eck, 723 East Reynolds street. A verdict to this effect was returned by the coroner's jury which held an inquest over the body this morning.

Wilson, a well known farmer, came to Springfield yesterday to see the fair. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Elder Gregory, and her husband of Roodhouse.

The party went to the Eck home to secure rooms. Accommodations were provided for Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, but Mrs. Eck had no room for Mr. Wilson. He offered to sleep in the kitchen if a mattress was supplied him.

This was done and he retired about 8 o'clock. It is believed that in trying to turn on the electric light the stranger first turned on the gas. Seeing that it did not illuminate the room he then it is believed turned on the electric light. After undressing he retied, but failed to turn off the gas. His body was found this morning in the room filled with deadly gas.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, four brothers, James, Edgar, Harrison and Thomas of Roodhouse; two sisters, Mrs. Edgar E. Gregory, and Mrs. Nettie Moore of Roodhouse; two half sisters, Mrs. John Priest and Mrs. Eliza Mott of Roodhouse.

He was a member of the E. M. Husted lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 75, and of the Odd Fellows lodge of Roodhouse.

The body was removed to the Metcalf undertaking establishment and this evening was sent to Roodhouse, where the funeral will be held.

WILL GO TO DAVENPORT.

Rev. J. M. Beadles, who is conducting a revival meeting at Murrayville, was a business visitor in the city Thursday. He expects to hold a series of meetings th th th thhh series of evangelistic services at Davenport, Iowa, after the Murrayville meeting.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF DR. BRADLEY.

At the regular chapel hour of Illinois college Thursday morning, Dr. T. J. Pitner was present and spoke of the late Dr. G. W. Bradley. At the time Dr. Bradley was president of the college, from 1892 till 1899, Dr. Pitner was a member of the board of trustees and was a close personal friend of the deceased. In the course of his remarks he referred to the main points in the career of Dr. Bradley, showing his prominence in the field of higher education. He referred to the numerous articles he had written along educational lines and also the personal acquaintance and interest Dr. Bradley had with every student of the college.

President Rammelkamp previous to introducing Dr. Pitner spoke of the recent death of Rev. J. L. Wylder and of his relation with the college, having had two sons to graduate from the institution and of his capacity as field secretary of the college. His strong and helpful interest in the various phases of college activity was also touched upon by the president.

REPAIRING MACHINERY.

The work of making some repairs at the city light plant has not yet been completed and it is possible to have only one-half of the lamps lighted at a time. Commissioner Brennan is following the plan of lighting the east half of the city one night and the west half on the succeeding night. This seemed to him the most equitable plan to follow and it is the expectation that the piece of machinery which was shipped to Peoria will be returned to day.

HAS MANY RIPE FIGS.

Eli Crawford is just now enjoying figs from a tree which he has in his garden and which has been his special care for a number of years. He brought the seedling, a Brunswick, from his place in Florida seven years ago and three years afterward it was frozen to the ground. The root, however, was not killed and the tree since that time has flourished and now at four years old it has a bountiful supply of figs on it. However, the tree is getting so large that Mr. Crawford finds it a little hard to care for and is planning to give it to some person or institution having a greenhouse.

CONDITION OF ROADS.

The rains of the past few days appear to be scattering, the large amount of water fall being to the south and east. Autoists to Springfield Thursday had to use their chains for a short span in the neighborhood of Alexander but from New Berlin the roads were in good condition. Late last night the roads appeared to be passable so, if no more moisture falls autoists to the state fair can be confident that the trip can be made.

COUNTY OFFICIALS TO MEET IN BEARDSTOWN

The 26th annual convention of the supervisors, county commissioners and county clerks of Illinois will be held in Beardstown Tuesday, Oct. 15. It is expected that 300 or more will be in attendance and the city is preparing to show their guests every courtesy. The sessions will be held in the Grand opera house and several prominent speakers will be heard.

THREE SONGS.

They Will Live Above All Others In the Man Who Heard Them.

The brilliant, fashionably clad audience roared an ovation to the great singer. She was unquestionably the best soprano in the world. The critic turned to his friend, the self made millionaire, and said:

"Did you ever hear any song more exquisitely rendered?"

"Yes," said the rich man musingly, for he was touched by the magic of what he had heard. "Yes; I have heard three greater singers."

"I want to know!" exclaimed the critic.

"The first was years ago. The singer was plain of face and gray of hair and tired of body. There was much work to do and many little mouths to feed. I was the youngest child, sick and cross, and that dear singer crooned to me a lullaby, and I slept. It was a wonderful song.

"The next was years afterward. We had a little cottage. It was summer, and the windows and doors were open. My wife was in the kitchen preparing supper. She was singing something about her true love coming home to her. It was for me. And that, too, was a wonderful song.

"Some more years elapse. There is a little toddler in the garden, and she sings hesitantly something about daddy and his baby.

"These are the three singers, my friend, who beat all your Tetrazzinis."

And the critic? Well, perhaps the critic agreed with him.—Albany Times-Union.

LIQUID AIR.

The Way It Acts as a Preservative of Animal Matter.

It is sometimes necessary to preserve parts of a human body or of some other animal for the purpose of testing for the presence of poisons. In such cases the preservative must fulfil certain special requirements. It must be able to prevent absolutely any decay or putrefaction; it must not itself cause any change in the tissues, either structural or chemical; it must not introduce any substance that would in any way interfere with the subsequent tests or give rise to false conclusions, and it must be easily handled.

Liquid air has been found to be quite well adapted to this use. Its low temperature (about 400 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit) prevents absolutely all putrefaction as well as all other chemical change. At the same time, it prevents the evaporation of any volatile substance that may be present, such as carbon monoxide or hydrocyanic acid gas. Experiments have shown that the most delicate tissues, such as glands and brain, are quite unaffected by being placed in liquid air for a long time, and the tissues even retain their natural colors.

For the purpose of making chemical tests in a piece of tissue it is frequently necessary to cut the material up into very small pieces. Tissues that have been preserved in liquid air are frozen so hard that they may be ground up into a fine powder.—Harper's.

ON BURGLARY CHARGE.

W. S. Nelson Arrested in Springfield is Wanted in DeKalb.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—W. S. Nelson who was arrested here on a charge of burglary by local police was sent this morning to De Kalb, where he will answer a charge of burglary. According to the story, Nelson entered the residence of a wealthy citizen of De Kalb, and took a costly diamond. His presence in the home when accosted by the man's daughter, was to the effect that he was a friend of the family and that when he rang the bell no one was in the house so he walked in. It is said that it was a day or so after his visit there that the diamond was missed.

TWO MACHINES IN DITCH.

Wednesday evening while Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rice were returned to the city from Chapin, they started down the Jerry Collins hill when the mud caused the machine to slid into the ditch. While Mr. Rice went to the residence of Robert Long to get a team to pull him out, another well known citizen of Jacksonville, driving a Buick car, came along the same road and they also slid into the ditch, so the farm team had a double duty to perform.

Mrs. A. W. Vaughn of Springfield, Mo., is in the city, a guest at the home of her brother, E. G. Saye on East College avenue.

APPEAR BEFORE BOARD.

Mothers of Suspended High School Girls Beg That They Not be Compelled to Retract Sorority Pledges.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Mothers of suspended high school girls appeared before the board of education anti-sorority committee here today and begged that the girls not be compelled to retract their sorority pledges which they said were too solemn to withdraw at the behest of the board. Mrs. Richard E. Sloane and Mrs. Louis McPherson said that the daughters could not withdraw from Delta Kappa Phi, because they had taken an oath as life members in a solemn, secret pledge, signed in blood at midnight under circumstances calculated to fill a high school girl with awe. The board took the case under advisement.

Forty other high school girls are in a similar predicament. Notice has been given that secret societies will be surpressed in the high schools.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 10.—An explosion of gasoline blew the roof from the Hutchinson building here today. The fire which followed for a while threatened an entire block in the downtown district. The loss will be $100,000. The explosion threw theroof fifty feet in the air arththt the roof fifty feet from the building and the fire instantly spread through out the top floor. A larrge force of employes of a knitting factory had justleft the building.

PHEASANT NURSERIES.

Those In French Forest Equal Institutions For Human Beings.

To Louis XIV. France is said to be indebted for the importation of its pheasants, writes Lillie Hamilton French in the Century. On that side of the forest Compiegne nearest to Compiegne itself is a faisanderie covering many hundreds of acres in which the breeding of these birds, begun under his protection and further encouraged by Charles X. and Louis Philippe, is now carried on by a private person, who rents his right to do so from the state.

I have never seen a place so shut in and protected by wire fences and locked gates, stone walls and more gates, special guards in special houses, police dogs, guns and traps. There is even a thick kind of double mattress made to cover the guards, who in winter must sleep out of doors in watching for poachers. I have never seen institutions for human beings better planned in the way of nurseries and attendants, hygienic laws and systems of feeding.

The pheasants when finally shot must have a wonderful flavor, and in a single day as many as a thousand are often shot within those walls, each one of the thousand having cost its owner the sum of 40 francs to raise.

GARRICK'S MOBILE FACE.

It Drove Sir Joshua Reynolds Into a Fit of Temper.

This story of an artist's despair while working on Garrick's portrait is often printed, but it is reproduced in "David Garrick and His French Friends," with a footnote saying that the experience was made the material for a French vaudeville sketch:

It was no easy task to transfer to the canvas features so changeable. Garrick, as a model, threw painters into despair. Let us listen a moment to Northcote relating Sir Joshua Reynolds' experiences:

"When the artist had worked on the face till he had drawn it very correctly, as he saw it at the time, Garrick caught an opportunity, while the painter was not looking at him, totally to change his countenance and expression, when the poor painter patiently worked on to alter the picture and make it like what he then saw, and when Garrick perceived that it was thus altered he seized another opportunity and changed his countenance to a third character, which, when the poor tantalized artist perceived, he, in a great rage, threw down his palette and pencils on the floor, saying he believed he was painting from the devil and would do no more to the picture."

Creating a Vacancy.

When the republic had been set up in France in 1848, wrote the Baroness Bonde, the first attempts of the enfranchised people to use their new powers resulted in the election of the most miscellaneous assembly that had ever tried to govern a country. A member nominated from Rouen went to Paris and selected his seat. He had hardly taken it when his next neighbor turned and stared at him. The Rouen man, embarrassed, turned up his coat collar, but too late.

"Sir," said his lynx eyed colleague, "I believe I had the honor of sending you to the galleys for murder in 18—, when I was judge. You had strangled the servant of the cure who had brought you up and robbed the worthy man. Oblige me by resigning immediately."

The next day the moniteur announced that there was a vacancy for Rouen, but did not tell why.

Suicide and the Weather.

Suicide is most frequent in summer, when the air is clear and the sun shines. In Europe the maximum of suicides is reached in June and the minimum in December. Yet there are fewer suicides in the torrid than in the tempegate zone. In the United States, in all seasons, there are more suicides on sunny days than on cloudy days. Some theorists reason that fine weather aggravates the mental depression of the unhappy by its contrasting sunshine. In dark weather there are few suicides and fewer in time of war or following some great catastrophe. During the first three months that follow a devastating earthquake there are fewer deaths by suicide than before the cataclysm.—Harper's.

The "Mikado."

Most people outside Japan are wont to speak of the "mikado," but really that title is obsolete. The Japanese never use that appellation themselves, and they do not like others to do so. Educated Japanese speak of their sovereign as "shnojo sama," and the ordinary folk term him "tenshi sama." "Tanno" is the title used in all official documents, and for the foreigner the most correct form is "kotei"—that is, emperor.—Westminster Gazette.

A Facetious Convict.

"This confinement," said the long faced prison visitor, "must distress you greatly."

"Yes," replied the facetious convict; "I find the prison bars grating."

"Ah, life to you is a failure!"

"Yes; it's nothing but a cell."

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

Those that make for comfort, convenience and economy and are lived up to—such are the resolutions to install gas in the home, as a means for lighting, heating and cooking. Certainly no intelligent man or woman today would be without gas unless they were where it could not be secured. As a matter of fact, people in the country realize so fully its advantages that they have imitated it by installing acetylene plants. which are extremely costly. However, for the small sum of $1.25 per room, you can have gas in your home. Why not see us today about this matter?

HAMILTON IS FOR STATE REPUBL ICANS

Hoopston Banker Presided at Deneen Meeting—Had Been Counted on as Third Party Supporters.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Another blow was dealt to the hopes of the Moose state ticket to day when news arrived at headquarters that John L. Hamilton, former president of the Illinois Bankers' association, presided at the Deneen meeting at Hoopeston. Mr. Hamilton has been counted as one of the staunch Moose men. If it were known that he intended to support the state Republican ticket his intention was kept quiet by the Moose men.

Within five days the third party managers have suffered three great disappointments. First came the announcement that Colonel Roosevelt would not be at the state fair. Reports from Springfield show his absence from the fair after he had been advertised by the third party managers had a depressing effect upon the supporters of the third party ticket. They tried to counteract his absence with stories to the effect that he wanted Mr. Funk to win and would make a hurried trip into Illinois shortly before election. But the announcement from New York shows other arrangements for him. He is greatly interested in the Empire state and the eastern situation requires his attention.

Then cae the announcement that Lafayette Funk, uncle of the nominee for governor, is for Deneen and the entire ticket. The candidate tried to explain the defection of his uncle by saying he was too old to see the advantages to be gained by the new party. This will not appeal to those who know the sturdy, clear headed McLean county farmer who has thousands of personal friends throughout the state.

The last blow to the Moose interests came in Hamilton, presiding at the Hoopeston meeting when Governor Deneen spoke there yesterday. Mr. Hamilton is a leading banker and for years has been active in banking and political circles.

CARDINAL MERRY DEL VEL'S BIRTHDAY.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, was born Oct. 10, 1865, in London, where his father was secretary of the Spanish embassy. He was educated at the famous Stoneyhurst college, the Jesuit institution near London. In his youth he became acquainted with Cardinal Rampolla, when the latter was papal nuncio at Madrid, and became his protege. In 1893 Del Val was appointed master to the robes to Pope Leo XIII, and thereafter his advancement was rapid. In 1896 he was sent to Canada to settle the dispute over what was known as the Manitoba school question. The next year he was sent to London as a special legate to represent the holy see at the diamond celebration of Queen Victoria. Since 1903 the cardinal has been secretary of state, a position demanding great tact and executive ability. In his official position he has nothing to do with spiritual matters. In fact, Cardinal Merry del Val has never taken priestly orders, though he is renowned as an eloquent pulpit orator.

SON OF SIR ARTHUR ELIOTT WEDS.

New York, Oct. 10.—A wedding of not took place at Southampton, L. I., to day, when Miss Flourney Adams Hopkins became the bride of Gilbert Eliott, the only son of Sir Arthur and Lady Eliott. The bride belongs to a family that has long been socially prominent in New York. Sir Arthur Eliott, who succeeded to the English title several years ago, has lived for many years in this country and both he and his son have business interests here, the latter being a stock broker. Lady Eliott is a member of an old Boston family.

STATE NEWS.

New Paper at Canton—Canton is to have a new daily called the Canton Daily Ledger. It will be Progressive in politics.

Merited Promotion—Merle McLaren began on the Burlington in the humblest capacity and has risen to the important position of trainmaster at Burlington. He came from Aurora.

Wonderful Fortune—Frank Pennington, station agent for the Wabash at Alpine, is reported to have been identified as heir to an estate in England and eligible to the title of Lord Mancaster.

Youthful Couple—In Paris a marriage license was issued to Rail Jones, aged 21, and Nellie Maloon, aged 16. The bride has been married previously and divorced at the age of fourteen.

A Valuable Present—C. A. Hoxie of Dundee has presented to the G. A. R. of his place a fife which was made from a piece of gas pipe and was carried by Co. I, 52nd Illinois Volunteers, during the war of the rebellion.

Help Scarce—Practically all work which is dependent upon common laboring men is being held up at the present time, owing to the fact that a sufficient number of workmen cannot be secured for the various jobs which are now under way. The work on all buildings in the city, all street work and other improvement work is either stopped entirely or slow progress is being made because men cannot be found who will accept the jobs.

No reason can be given for the lack of laborers in this vicinity, except that it be as explained by one contractor today, that the majority of men are afraid of hard work and all are looking for the easy jobs.

Hog Cholera Raging Around Sterling—The ravages of hog cholera which devastated the herds of northern Illinois last year are being felt again this fall and the animals are being attacked by the dread disease with more deadly results than a year ago. From Malta, Kirkland, Shabbona, DeKalb, Hinckley and all of the country contiguous to Sterling for forty miles, come the reports of farmers whose herds have been cleaned up at the rate of thousands of dollars daily.

Illustrious Visitors—A tour of the chief cities of the United States is being made by a party representing forty-seven nations, for the purpose of studying industrial conditions in our country. Twelve languages are spoken and the delegates present widely varied costumes. Every country except Paraguay is represented. Their longest stay was in Chicago, where they were entertained for three days by the Chamber of Commerce at the cost of $25,000.

Schools Flourishing—The Pittsfield schools are now in full blast for the winter and are progressing nicely. Superintendent O. H. Blossom's first monthly report shows a total enrollment of 550 pupils or 261 boys and 289 girls; average attendance 531. Number of cases of tardiness for the month, 48; number neither tardy or absent, 442; visitors for September, only 9.

To Vote on Township High Schools—Macoupin county is about to vote on the township high school question and much enthusiasm is aroused over the matter, which it is thought will carry, as the district schools are now badly crowded and are not doing their best work.

Typhoid at Reformatory—A dispatch from Springfield last evening stated that Dr. Westervelt, of the state board of health, had been sent to Pontiac to assist in stamping out the epidemic of typhoid fever at the reformatory, at the request of Superintendent R. A. Russell. It is further reported that there are fifteen cases in the hospital at that institution.

High Price For Land—Real estate dealers of central Illinois believe that a deal closed breaks all records for high price on central Illinois farm land. The J. P. Ropp farm of 191 acres, located one mile east of Tremont, has been sold for $400 an acre. The buyer is Fred Moser, of Tremont, and he will get possession of the land next spring.

Raised the Money—Officials of Augustana college at Rock Island announced that the necessary $46,000 for the endowment fund had been raised to secure a like sum from the Erickson estate in Iowa. Augustana college is the official school of the Swedish Lutheran synod.

Many Studying Agriculture—Seventy-four more students are registered in the Agricultural College of the University of Illinois this year than last, the total enrollment being 796. The faculty contains 141 instructors. Professor Dietrich's place as head of the seven departments has been taken by Professor Edwin Good.

Serves Two Denominations—For a minister to preach alternately at Presbyterian and Methodist churches is unique, but such will be the task of Rev. Mr. Batly. Rev. Mr. Batly, late of Divernon, has been appointed by the Methodist conference to preach at the Mount Vernon church, six miles east of Mahomet, and at the Jersey Presbyterian church, nine miles northwest.

TO DISCUSS DRY FARMING.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 19.—One week hence an army of several thousand men, bander together by their common interest in the science of raising grain and vegetables with little rainfall, will be moving on Lethbridge to attend the seventh international dry faring congress. The committee in charge of the local arrangements is in receipt of advices which indicate the largest and most representative gathering in the history of the congress. Thirty countries are to send representatives. In connection with the gathering there wil be an elaborate exhibition of dry farming products from various parts of the United States and Canada, to show what can be accomplished under seemingly adverse conditions. Another feature will be a display of over $50,000 worth of machinery adapted to dry farming work.

BOSTON	2	1	1	.500
NEW YORK	2	1	1	.500

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—The New York Nationals overcame the Boston Americans today by 2 to 1, in the third game in the world's baseball championship series. Each club has now won a victory, the second game having ended in a tie. Nearly 35,000 persons witnessed the pitchers' battle, in which the Giants' left-hander, "Rube" Marquard, opposed the "Red Sox" moist ball moundsman, "Buck" O'Brien, and Marquard carried off the honors..

Devore Saves Game for Giants.

Little Josh Devore was the hero of the day. The midget outfielder made a catch that snatched seeming victory from the Bostons and sent them down to defeat. The Red Sox made a desperate rally in the ninth and there were men on second and third and two out when Cady came to bat. The Boston catcher sent a terrific drive between right and center, and Devore was off with the crack of the bat. The crowd cheered for two Red Sox men who were on their way home, and victory was won, when Devore speeding after the ball speared it with his gloved hand on the run ending the game.

Marquard Only Troubled in Ninth.

Marquard was a puzzle to the Red Sox. His fast ball sped over the plate with the swish of a raw hide lash and his curves were under good control. In only one inning did the Red Sox have Marquard in trouble, and that was in the thrilling ninth, when Boston made its last stand and sent one run over the plate.

Hit O'Brien When They Count.

"Buck" O'Brien held New York to six hits, but three of these were made when they counted for runs. O'Brien found himself in difficulty in the second, when Murray led off with a double, which resulted in a run on a sacrifice hit and a sacrifice fly and again in the fifth, when Herzog rapped out another two bagger and came home after Meyers hd advanced him to third on Fletcher's single.

Red Sox Make Sensational Rally.

Boston made its stand in the ninth when two runs were needed to tie. The crowd groaned when Speaker popped to Fletcher, and hundreds started for the exits. Lewis scratched an infield hit and Herzog rushed in to steady Marquard. Gardner drove a hot bounder past Merkle along the right field line and Lewis was rounding third when Speaker checked him. Lewis fought Speaker off. But half way toward home he heard a warning cry and turned back. Once more he ran towards home and scored.

That monetary return of Lewis to third base was costly. Gardner on his drive which Devore played with difficulty off the fence had dashed over second and would have made third but Lewis' returning for that base forced Gardner to hustle back to second. When Lewis finally ran home it was too late for Gardner to advance. With Gardner on third he could easily have tied the score on Merkle's muff of Fletcher's throw on Wagner's grounder which followed.

Speaker Although Crippled Plays the Game.

Tris Speaker limped through the game with a wrenched ankle but that did not prevent him, in New York's half of the ninth from racing over toward the temporary fence and taking Fletchers drive, labelled for three bases. Then wheeling quickly Speaker threw to Stahl and doubled Meyers who was rounding third in the belief that the ball had gone to the back fence.

The clubs return tonight to New York where they will play tomorrow weather permitting.

The National commission's figures showed a paid attendance of 34,624; total receipts, $63,142; National commission's share $6,314.20; players share, $34,096.68; each club's share $11,365.56.

Summary.

Two base hits—Murray, Herzog, Stahl, Gardner. Hits—Off O'Brien 6 in 8 innings, Bedient 1 in 1 inning. Stolen bases—Fletcher, Devore, Wagner. Double play—Speaker-Stahl. Base on balls—Off O'Brien 3; Marquard 1. Base on errors—Boston 1. Hit by pitcher—By Bedient (Herzog). Struck out—By Marquard 6; O'Brien 3. Time 2:16. Umpires—At plate, Evans; bases, Klem; right field, Rigler; left field, O'Laughlin.

Ball Remains in Play if Copper is Hit.

After announcement had been made that if a ball hit one of the policemen standing in the outfield it would be still in play, the same as if it had hit a fence, O'Brien took his place in the box and his first three offerings to Devore were called balls by Umpire Evans. The fourth was a strike and then Devore shot the next one over second for a single to the outfield. Doyle put a high one to Speaker and Devore was the second out when he tried to steal second, Carrigan to Wagner. Snodgrass also sent a fly to Speaker.

Second Half of First Inning

Boston was easy for New York in the first. Hooper sent up a fly which Fletcher got. Yerkes went out on strikes and Speaker hit a weak grounder to Doyle, who tossed him out as he limped to the bag.

First Half of Second Inning.

In the second innnig Murray drove a hit to right center for two bases. Merkle laid down a sacrifice, going out, O'Brien to Stahl, Murray reaching third Murray then scored on Herzog's sacrifice fly to Hooper, the latter's throw being a little wide at the plate. Meyers was out, Gardner to Stahl.

Second Half of Second Inning.

In the Red Sox second Lewis sent a fast single to center and reached second on Gardner's sacrifice, Herzog to Merkle. Murray gathered in Stahl's fly holding Lewis on second and Wagner fell a victim to consecutive strikes.

First Half of Third Inning.

In the third inning Fletcher was rewarded with a base on balls, and took second on Marquard's sacrifice, O'Brien to Stahl. Devore went out on strikes and Doyle shot a hot liner right into Stahl's hands.

Third Inning a Fast One.

In the third inning Carrigan sent a high foul which Meyers got. O'Brien and Hooper both fanned. It was one, two, three for New York in the fourth inning. Snodgrass went out on a bounder to Yerkes, who tassed the ball to Stahl and Murray and Merkle sent slow grounders to O'Brien who threw both men out at first.

Fourth Inning Unproductive.

Yerkes in the fourth for Boston, flied to Fletcher. Speaker hit to left field for a single and was forced at second by Lewis who hit to Herzog. Gardner flied to Murray.

First Half of Fifth Inning.

In the fifth iuning Herzog sent a mighty drive to left field getting two bases. Chief Meyers put him on third by his out. O'Brien to Stahl. Fletcher singled to right and brought Herzog home, while Fletcher strolled for second and made the bag for a clean steal. Marquard got a base on balls but was forced at second by Devore, Wagner to Yerkes, Fletcher taking third. Devore also stole second. Doyle was given a base on balls. With the bases full it looked bad for O'Brien but he pulled out of the hole. He gave Snodgrass three balls and then put over two strikes. Snodgrass fouled off the next two balls and then sent up a fly which Lewis caught, ending the inning.

Second Half of Fifth Inning.

Boston's half of the fifth brought out two of the fielding features of the game Stahl slashed one over Merkle's head which Devore fielded sharply, holding the Boston manager on first. Meyer then let on of Marquard's wide ones get past him and Stahl made a dash for second. The big Indian was right on the ball however and by a long and accurate throw got the ball to the base ahead of Stahl, Doyle making the out.

A moment later Wagner sent up a high fly that Murray seemingly lost in the sun. He ran up on the ball and then started to back rapidly to the fence. It looked as if the ball was going over his head probably for a two base hit, Murray shot his hand in the air as he went backward and speared the ball. It was one of the best outfield plays of the series and even the Boston fans cheered. Carrigan ended the inning by grounding out to Marquard to Merkle.

Sixth Inning Uneventful.

New York's sixth inning was uneventful. Murray fouled out to Lewis. Merkle struck out and Herzog hit to Wagner who tossed him out at first.

In the Red Sox half, O'Brien struck out. Hooper flied to Doyle and Yerkes hit to center field, but was left on first as Speaker snt a high foul to Meyers.

Luck Breaks for Giants in Seventh.

New York's seventh inning also was over quickly. Meyers struck out, Fletcher was an easy victim, Gardner to Stahl, and Marquard sent a slow grounder which Stahl got and tossed to O'Brien who covered first base.

Lewis was an easy out, Fletcher to Merkle and Gardner sent up a foul fly to Murray. Stahl sent one of Marquard's good ones high toward the left field fence. Murray backed to the fence and it looked like a sure home run over the high barrier but the ball struck near the top and bounded back into the crowd, Stahl getting two bases. It was the longest hit of the game. Wagner ended Boston's hopes by sending up a fly to Devore.

No Runs Made in Eighth.

In the eighth inning Devore opened with a solid single to left and was held there while Doyle went out on a fly to Lewis. Snodgrass sent a single to left and Devore stopped at second. Merkle ended the inning by forcing at second, Wagner to Yerkes, after Murray had flied out.

In Boston's half Engel batted for Carrigan and flied to Murray. Ball batted for O'Brien and struck out. Marquard gave Hooper a base on balls, but he stayed on first as Yerkes ended the inning by going out, Herzog to Merkle.

Red Sox Battery Changes in Ninth.

Bedient and Cady were the battery for the Red Sox in the ninth and the first thing Bedient did was to hit Herzog who was sent to first. On an attempted steal Herzog was out, Cady to Yerkes. Meyers singled to center and the only double play of the game ended New York's inning when Fletcher sent a long fly to Speaker who doubled up Meyers on a throw to first. Meyers did not know the ball had been caught until he had almost reached third.

Boston Makes Sensational Rally.

Then came the dramatic finish. For Boston Speaker flied out to Fletcher. Lewis singled to right and the excitement became intense when Gardner drove one to right field for two bases, scoring Lewis. Stahl hit a slow grounder to Marquard, who taking the fielder's choice, threw Gardner out at third. The crowd groaned, Henriksen took Stahl's place at first to run for him and Wagner sent a grounder to Fletcher who threw to Merkle. The latter dropped the ball and Wagner was safe. Henriksen sprinted to third on the misplay. Wagner stole second. Cady sent a long high fly to deep right field which Devore raced to get. The little New Yorker managed to get under the drive and saved the day for New York. It was a great catch.

Report of World's Series Games.

The Journal wire will open today at 12:30 for the game of the world's series. The game will be played at New York and will undoubtedly be a hard battle from the start. The flash yesterday "New York wins" and the ninth inning report was received at this office four minutes after the last out was made in Boston. Be on hand today and watch the progress of the third game.

REPUBLICAN DAY SHOWS HARMONY

Big Crowd of Party Leaders at State Fair Meeting — Factions Are Getting Together—Prospects Good for Taft, Deneen and Whole Ticket.

Springfield, Illinois, October 10.—Republican day at the state fair, culminating in the love feast tonight at the state house demonstrated that factional wounds within the party have been healed and that the old federal and state "crowds' have been amalgamated into ne active and belligerent working organization which is out on the firing line for the entire Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Well Known Leaders Present.

The best-known party leaders were here from every county in the state. The old wheel-horses of the party organization were consulting together. Stock was taken of the situation in all of the congressional districts and the enthusiams which was manifested tonight when there was a genuine old time love feast changed a somewhat pessimistic view of the situation in Illinois to a rosy forecast of a Republican victory all through the piece in November.

With the exception of Walter Clyde Jones, who has gone afield with the Bull Moosers, all of the candidates for governor in the April primary, were here today, pledging their allegiance to the national and state tickets. Particularly noticeable in the crowds of Republicans were States Attorney John E. W. Wayman of Chicago, Len Small of Kankakee and Richard Yates of Springfield. All of them are out for Taft and Deneen.

Believes Taft Will Carry State.

From the national Republican headquarters, came a big squad of the party leaders, headed by Joseph B. Kealing of Indianapolis, manager of the organization work of the western bureau. After a series of consultations with representatives of each of the congressional districts Mr. Kealing said that it was his judgement, in view of the sentiment he discovered today that Taft will carry Illinois.

It is certain, as a result of the frequent confabs that friction between the two formidable old-time party factions in the state that the full force of the party organization will be found on the firing line for the entire Republican ticket, urging that the cross in the Republican circle is the safe and proper way for the ballots to be marked on November 5.

Hopkins a Candidate.

The thronging Republicans talked much of the senatorial situation. During the Democratic round-up yesterday, it was found that the Democrats believed seriously that they will control the legislature and will be able to elect two United States senators as well as to reapportion the state congressionally and legislatively to suit themselves and re-enact the Democratic legislative gerrymander of 1893. The united efforts of the party leaders will be put into operation to elect every available Republican legislative nominee, so as to insure the election of Lawrence Y. Sherman and a Republican colleague in January. One of the developments of the round-up was the advent of Former Senator Albert J. Hopkins as a full fledged candidate for the short term senatorship.

The national committee's tariff train was in Springfield during the afternoon, with a heavy force of Taft workers. Senator Theodore E. Burton of Chicago spoke from the same platform today with Governor Deneen. J. Adam Bode of Minnesota is to speak Monday noon at Rockford, by an arrangement made today by Fred E. Sterling.

PAID TO "THINK AHEAD."

The Part Imagination Plays In the Business World.

There is a man in an office in New York whose business it is to think ahead on behalf of the community and prepare for coming events, writes T. Sharper Knowlton in the Century, discussing "The Uses of Imagination In Business." He sits at a big table, and before him is a map of New York with its environs by land and sea. The problem is to determine what shipping accommodation will be required in the future and to begin the work of reconstruction now. During the last century the story was one of growth, growth, growth, and the story is to be continued. How? That is the question which the man with the map has to settle. He is not on piecework; he is paid for thinking. In other words, whatever his official title may be, I shall call him acting professor of imagination to the shipping interests of New York.

In every progressive house of business there is or ought to be a similar officer. Generally he is the principal himself. That is one reason why he divides his business into departments and pays men high salaries to superintend them. He wants time to think.

But the farseeing element in imagination is not the only one. There is one which concerns itself with details. If I might say so, imagination is telescopic for big things and microscopic for small things. You can imagine a billion dollar trust and you can imagine a new way of pointing a needle. Probably no man makes a sure advance without using both instruments, but the essential work of the imagination is always the same. It creates the things which are not. Judgment passes its verdict, and action brings realization.

Miss Lottie Marrs has returned from a visit to the state fair.

ENTERTAINS FOR STUDENTS OF CITY

Epworth League of Grace M. E. Church Extends Cordial Welcome to Many and Evening Was One of Pleasure.

The first of a series of entertainments to be given in the city, in honor of the students of the various schools and colleges, took place Thursday evening in the parlors of Grace M. E. church, under the auspices of the Epworth league. A great many new students come to the city each year and this method is taken of getting them better acquainted and of letting them know that the churches are interested in their welfare.

The reception last night was one of the best ever held at the church, the attendance being nearly two hundred. Everything had been amply arranged for the guests and when they arrived they found the entire basement of the church be utifully decorated with autumn foliage Woodbine, elephant leaves, cannas, caladium and asparagus. The league colors, red and white, were also used to pretty effect and all was given such an artistic effect that the room was the occasion of much comment.

After all the guests had arrived cards were passed around on which was a number and a name. The girls and boys were given their partner to find in this way, which made a means of getting acquainted and also served to choose partners for the refreshments.

A large number of tables had been provided for serving the refreshments and these were placed in the north end of the room. The refreshments were very elaborate, a soda fountain having been added to this department where were served all kinds of ice cream and sodas together with Sundaes. It was in the refreshment room that the orchestra was found and they gave some delightful music during the evening. Miss Marie Miller was pianist, Miss Harrison, violinist; Paul Morrison, flute, and John Kearns, 'cello.

Harlan Williamson introduced the pastor of the church Rev. J. W. Miller, who took occasion to welcome the young people and told them if they got homesick Grace church would be glad to help them out of their predicament. Various guessing contests, in which prizes were given, also afforded amusement during the hours, and in every way the event was a happy one.

The heads of the various committees in charge were: Entertainment, Miss Alice Wadsworth; decorations, J. I. Graham; refreshments, Miss Stella Shuff; reception committee, Harlan Williamson and the cabinet officers.

BOARD DECIDED TO CONTINUE CLINIC

Meeting Held Thursday Afternoon —Will Campaign For New Members For Anti-Tuberculosis Society—To Have Christmas Stamp Sale.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Anti-Tuberculosis society held Thursday afternoon in the clinic room in the King building it was decided to continue the free clinic and that a campaign for new members should be started at once.

Dr. T. C. Hardesty, as president of the society, gave a very accurate report of the work of the free clinic since its beginning, May 21, up to October 1. His report included the work done by the visiting nurse and among the facts were the following: number of cases examined, 60; number of tubercular cases, 40; number of homes visited by nurse in looking up cases, 425; number of homes visited in first ward, 625; total number of cases registered in the city to October 1, 104; number of pieces of literature distributed, 2,000; deaths since January 1, 18; expense of conducting clinic, $50 per month.

After hearing this report the directors decided that the work being done by the clinic was far too important to be dropped and they laid plans for a membership campaign among the citizens, setting the membership fee at $1 per year. They also decided to undertake the selling of the Red Cross stamps this year, Mrs. A. L. Adams taking charge of this work.

Dr. C. E. Cole, Dr. Grace Dewey, Dr. Josephine Milligan, Dr. T. O. Hardesty, Dr. H. C. Woltman, Mrs. A. L. Adams and Miss Geneva Morrison were selected as delegates from the society to the state convention which will be held in Springfield October 19 and they decided to send as exhibits to the state convention, the map that was prepared in locating cases of tuberculosis in the city, a report of the clinic and a sample of all of the literature that is being used.

Another matter that was brought before the board and was decided on favorably was that of giving stereopticon lectures on tuberculosis in the smaller towns near this city, and they expect to begin this work soon.

Among those present at the meeting Thursday afternoon were Dr. T. J. Pitner, Dr. H. C. Woltman, Dr. Grace Dewey, Dr. T. O. Hardesty, Mrs. A. L. Adams, Dr. R. O. Post.

STATE POULTRY SHOW.

D. T. Heimlich has returned from Springfield, where he attended the state fair for two days. He was not a judge in the poultry department this year, but spent considerable time among the exhibits, which he claims are the best the fair ever had, the water fowls being exceptionally good. Mrs. J. W. Cleary was one of the prize winners from Morgan county, securing fourth on cockerel and fifth on pen.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature for Thursday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, was: maximum 78, minimum 61. A rainfall of .06 inches was recorded.

Robert Headden attended the state fair Thursday.

Grows Beautiful, Heavy Hair, We Prove It---25 Cent "Danderine"

Destroys Dandruff—Stops Falling Hair—Cleans and Invigorates Your Scalp—Delightful Dressing.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25c bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries it.

AGRICUTURAL CHEMISTRY

In an address at the Rock Falls Corn Carnivll, Hon. A. N. Abbott, legislator, farmer, stockman and Illinois Farmers' Institute director of Morrison, Illinois, discussed farm problems in a way that put a new meaning into the words "Scientific Agriculture," "Nutritive Ratio," and "Balanced Ration.' Following are a few important sentences from this practical man's remarks:

"The alchemist of old tried in his mysterious ways to produce gold from the elements; the modern scientist points out the way for every farmer to procure gold—he has only to follow directions.

"The chemist takes into his laboratory the soils from the fields and analyzes them; he learns what elements the fertile fields contain—what elements are present to make them productive. He also learns what elements of fertility are lacking, or are present in small qauntities only, in the fields which produce small crops. He finds that by supplying the missing or deficient elements a fertile and well balanced soil may be made; that the four elements most likely to be lacking are phosphorus, potassium, calcium (lime) and nitrogen.

How to Supply Needed Elements

"The phosphorus, if deficient, should be supplied in the form of steamed bone-meal or ground-rock phosphate, the potassium in the form of kainit or some other of its commercial forms, the calcium in the form of ground limestone, while the nitrogen may be obtained through the application of barn yard manure, or from the air through the proper use of the legumes. To buy a complete commercial fertilizer is on a par with giving a sick animal a shot-gun dose of all the remedies in the office when the 'doctor' does not know what the trouble is. Common sense and economy would seem to require that when the soil is sick the sickness should be properly diagnosed and only the needed remedy applied.

Technical Feeding Terms.

"The chemist takes into his laboratory animal tissue; through inspection he finds that some is fat and some is lean meat while the bone is of a composition quite unlike either. He analizes the various parts and finds that the fat meat contains large quantities of carbon and he calls it carbonhydrate. The lean meat contains large quantities of nitrogen and he calls it nitrogenous. He finds the bon contains large quantities of calcium or lime. He analyzes wheat, oats, barley, timothy hay, clover and oil-meal. He also analyses corn for corn is king, and alfalfa because alfalfa is one of nature's best gifts to man. He finds that these products contain varying amounts of nitrogenous and carbohydrate elements, some rich in one and some the other. The ratio between the nitrogenous and the carbohydrates he calls the 'Nutritive Ration.'

The Nutritive Ratio.

"The chemist found that timothy hay had a nutritive ratio of 1 to 20—that is in simple terms, one part of leans to 20 parts of the fates. He found that corn has a nutritive ratio of 1 to 10, and that alfalfa has a ratio of 1 to 3.5.

'By experiment and observation the chemist found that a young animal fed on timothy hay and corn, or any ration containing large quantities of carbohydrates exclusively, do not do well; so too, an animal fed entirely n oil-meal or alfalfa hay did not do well because of the excess of nitrogen. He found that somewhere between these two extremes there is a happy medium which he called a 'balanced ration.'

The Balanced Ration.

"The chemist found by investigation that for the young animals a ration containing 1 part of the nitrogenous to 6 of the carbohydrates made a balanced ration, or a nutritive ratio of 1 to 6 gave the most satisfactory results. He also found that when an animal was fed on a ration with a nutritive ratio of 1 to 10, when its system required a food ration of 1 to 6, the difference between 6 parts and 10 parts of carbohydrates was wasted. It is evident then, that when a horse is fed corn which has a ratio of 1 to 10, and timothy hay which has a ratio of 1 to2 0, while its system requires a food ratio of 1 to 6, the waste must be enormous.

Waste at Feed Rack Small Item.

"Many good farmers who feed carefully so there is no apparent waste at the manger or on the feeding-floor are wasting much of their feed by reason of its not being balanced. The extravagant waste of material fed carelessly by boys and hired men—feed tramped in the mud at the feed-rack is not one-hundreth part of the waste caused by feeding an unbalanced ration.

'Corn and alfalfa makes a balanced feed; both can be raised on Illinois land. They each supplement the other. By growing these crops and combining them properly it will not be necessary for the dairyman, the swine grower, the horse raiser or the cattle feeder to buy concentrated food stuffs at an exhorbant price to balance his home grown rations. Corn and alfalfa are the elements from which the farmers may produce the shining gold."

NOTED SINGER DYING.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 10.—Jules Lombard, the noted civil war singer whose voice, Gen. Grant once said, brought thousands of men to the union cause, is dying at his home here of old age. The widow of his brother, Mrs. Mary Lombard is attending him, giving the only aid in his poverty. President Lincoln once said that his and his brother's singing brought more soldiers to the union side than "50 times 150 of our recruiting officers."

Mr. Lombard appeared many times in this city at an early day not long after the war. He and his brother were famous vocalists. The writer well remembers hearing them sing in the Congregational church one evening. Among other selections was, "Come Ye Disconsolate.". A. A. Dewey sang the refrain and the brothers joined in the chorus and the effect was fine.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

To, Stella Bahan:

You are hereby notified, there is pending in the circuit court of Morgan county, Illinois, on the chancery side of the docket, a bill for divorce from you, as defendant, by Frank A. Bahan, as complainant, to the November term, A. D., 1912, of said court and that summons has been issued to you, and Frank A. Bahan, complainant, has filed an affidavit in this office that you are a non-resident of the state of Illinois.

You must appear on Monday, November 11th, 1912, at the court house in Jacksonville, Morgan county, Illinois, either in person or by attorney, and plead, answer, or demur to the bill filed, or the same will be taken as confessed by you.

(Seal) John A. Rawlings,

Clerk of the circuit court, Morgan county, Illinois.

Wm. N. Hairgrove, solicitor for complainant.

COLUMBUS DAY.

The banks of Jacksonville will not be open for business on Columbus Day, Saturday, October 12, the same being a legal holiday.

Jacksonville Clearing House Ass'n.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Dr. M. N. Newman of Ossian, Ind., is in the city renewing the acquaintances and friends of his childhood. He was bornr near the Sargent home stead a few miles west of the city and when twelve years of age went with his parents to Iowa and has not seen this place since. He was a member of the third Iowa cavalry during the civil war and saw hard service. His mother was a sister of Mrs. John Sargent west of the city and his father was a brother of Col. Jesse Newman who once conducted the livery stable on the site of the one owned by Cherry. His father and the grandmother of Messrs. Andre & Andre were brother and sister so he sees a number here who are related to him. He has been visiting his aunt west of the city and yesterday was with his cousin Geo. W. Sargent and the Andres. He has risen to eminence in his profession and has yet a warrm feeling for his friends here.

GOOD CROPS SOUTH.

A. A. Curry has just returned from a tour of Texas, during which he visited Brownsville, Port Lavaca and other points. People in the Lone Star state are looking for a bumper crop this year and estimate that cotton will bring the state $35,000,000. Mr. Currry says he saw fields of corn which he estimated at ninety bushelsto the acre

Irvin Fisher of Arenzville was among the visitors in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Adams and W. L. Waltrip of Hillview were among the visitors in the city yesterday.

Miss Katherine Hardin and Miss Leila Smith have gone to Springfield to attend the fair.

Lincoln's Cousin Dead.

Albany, Ill., Oct. 10.—Captain David C. Hanks, aged 87 years, a first cousin of Abraham Lincoln, is dead at his home here. He was one of the oldest steamboat pilots on the Mississippi river. His father, Thomas Hanks, was a brother of Nancy Hanks, mother of Lincoln. Two brothers and a sister, all over eighty years oldd, survive.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Estate of Gottfried Eckles, Deceased.

The undersigned, having been appointed executrix of the last will and testament of Gottfried Eckels, late of the County of Morgan and State of Illinois, deceased, hereby gives notice that she will appear before the county court of Morgan county, at the court house in Jacksonville, at the December term, on the first Monday in December next, at which time all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to attend for the purpose of having the same adjusted.

All parties indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

Dated this third day of October, A. D., 1912.

Christina Eckels, Executrix.

GENERAL MARKET NEWS

CROP REPORT LOWERS PRICES

Wheat Market Closed Steady but ⅝ to 1⅝c lower—Corn Shows Net Loss of 1c.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 10.—Wheat prices came down today as a result of the government report estimating the crop this season to be nearly 100,000,000 bushels larger than last year. The market closed steady but ⅝ to 1⅝c lower. Corn showed a net loss of ½@⅝ to 1c; oats a drop of ⅛ to ⅜c and provisions unchanged at 52½c loss.

It was evident from the start that wheat would have to suffer a material setback. Support, accordingly became limited and more and more deliberate. Longs of the eleventh hour forced to let go their holdings. Instead of predicting a far reaching embroilment of the European powers the market began to back the ideal that the disturbance would be confined to a few of the mountain districts.

Values continued to settle down and the close was at nearly lowest figures of the day. December ranged from 92 to 92¾ with last sales at 92¼, a fall of 1@1⅝c net.

Corn, although bearishly affected by the government figures, met with props after a moderate decline. Large cash and elevator concerns bought freely on assertions that counting the difference in feeding value and in the amount of carryover stocks the maximum supply this year would be much less than at first sight.

December fluctuated from 53 to 53½, closing steady ½@⅝c net, lower at 53¼@⅜.

Sharp falling off in export demand pulled down oats. Apparently the estimate of a record breaking crop had been discounted by traders. December ranged between 32½@⅝ and 32¼c, closing ⅜@½c off at 32⅜.

Provisions sagged with grain. January pork made the heaviest descent, 3½c.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET.
Chicago, Oct. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 4500; market steady. Beeves, $5.65@11.60; Texas steers, $4.50@6.00; western steers, $5.80@8.90; stockers and feeders, $4.40@7.80; cows and heifers, $2.90@8.10; calves, $7.50@10.30.

Hogs—Receipts, 16,000; market steady, 5c higher. Light, $8.60@9.30; mixed, $8.65@9.35; heavy, $8.50@9.35; rough, $8.50@8.75; pigs, $4.75@7.75; bulk of sales, $8.90@9.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 35,000; market strong. Native, $3.25@4.25; western, $3.40@4.35; yearlings, $4.25@5.25; lambs, native, $4.50@6.85; western, $4.15@6.80.

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK MARKET.
St. Louis, Oct. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 7,000; market steady. Native shipping and export steers, $8.00@10.75; dressed and butchers, $5.50@9.10; stockers and feeders, $3.75@6.75; cows and heifers, $5.75@8.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 7,000; market, 15c higher. Pigs and lights, $6.25@9.20; mixed and butchers, $8.95@9.25; good heavy, $9.00@9.20.

Sheep—Receipts, 6,000; market strong. Muttons, $3.50@6.65; labs, $5.50@6.85.

PEORIA GRAIN MARKET.
Peoria, Oct. 10.—Corn steady; No. 2 white, 64½c; No. 2 yellow, 63¾c; No. 3 yellow, 63½c; No. 2 and No. 3 mixed, 63c.

NEW YORK STOCKS.
New York, Oct. 10.—Asdie from Reading operations in today's market were largely restricted to specialties such as American Can common and preferred with a new record for the former and national enameling, the fertilizers and oil shares. Reading gained over two points by noon, to the accompaniment of the familiar "segregation rumors," but lost some of this later on profit-taking. Other representative securities moved within narrow ranges, except U. S. steel, which rose over a point soon after publication of its September record.

The foreign situation was again an active influence on recording their prices for Americans, and following those with more selling. In addition Abirtage houses offered stocks from Berlin.

Grangers and similar stocks failed to make more than passive response to yesterday's remarkable crop report until late in the session when the entire group made some recovery despite advices from the northwest announcing an over-abundance of rain.

Money conditions continued to reflect the unsettled conditions abroad tending toward greater firmness in spite of the diminished demand. Considerable call money was placed at 5½ with a high rate at 6%. Local banks have lost about $2,500,000 thus far but this sum is not likely to be much exceeded by the end of the week.

Monuments

Decoration Day is past but we are still selling monuments.
Is your cemetery lot as you would like to have it? If not, you should consult us at once as we now have the largest and most artistic stock of monuments ever assembled in this part of the state.

We have all the leading monumental granites in stock but would especially call your attention to the FAMOUS the most beautiful and enduring granite in the world; the granite which was accepted for the famous Grant Sarcophagi at Riverside Park, New York, and many other national and state monuments. Why? Because of its beauty and enduring qualities.

Montello Granite

You will make a serious mistake if you order a monument without first seeing and ascertaining the merits of this granite. BEWARE of others just as good, for there are none.

Examine the Montello Granite in your cemeteries and compare it with other granites and judge for yourselves.

Call and see us at any time; we will appreciate it, and you will profit thereby. Quality with reasonable prices is our motto. All work guaranteed.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child.

Mother'sFriend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WILL DEDICATE RICE MEMORIAL

Festivities Planned at Houston, Tex. Call to Mind Mysterious Circumstances Connected With Death of Philanthropist.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 10.—The great academic festival arranged to mark the formal inauguration and dedication of the William M. Rice Institute of Liberal and Technical Learning began here to day under the most auspicious conditions in the presence of a large gathering of educators and students from all parts of the world. The festival is planned to extend over four days and will close Sunday with a special sermon in the Municipal auditorium, following the return of the guests from a visit to Galveston. The program of the opening day includes an informal breakfast at the Hotel Bender, a municipal luncheon at the City auditorium, a garden party in the academic court of the institute, a reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. James A. Baker and a number of inaugural lectures by distinguished scientists from various parts of the world at the institute and at the Majestic theatre.

Probably never before in the history of the country has the inauguration of a new institution of learning beenmarked by so large a gathering of famous men of science and a series of inaugural lectures of equal importance as the opening and dedication of the William M. Rice institute, founded with the millions left by the late William M. Rice, a former citizen of Houston, who was murdered in New York city on Sept. 23, 1900. The list of lectures scheduled on the programs for the inauguration exercises includes such by Professor Rafael Altamira y Crevea of Madrid; Prof. Imile Borel of Paris; Senator Benedetto Croce of Naples; Prof. Hugo de Vries of Amsterdam; Prof. Sir Henry Jones of Glasgow;; Privy Councilor Baron Dairoku Mikuchi of Tokio; Prof. John William Mackall of London; Privy Councilor Prof. Wilhelm Ostwald of Gross-Bothen, Germany; Prof. Henri Poincare of Paris; Prof. Sir William Ramsay, K. C. B., of London; Prof. Vito Volterra of Rome, and several other distinguished scientists.

William M. Rice, whose name will be perpetuated by this great institution of learning, was formerly a resident of Houston. Hemade a great for tune in this state and, recognizing the educational needs of this section of the south, he conceived the plan of founding a great educational technological institute in this city. More than ten years before his death Mr. Rice laid the foundation for his plan, which, at first, contemplated merely a training school with an endowment of $200,000. As he elaborated his plans, he became more and more interested in the subject and added to the proposed endowment until, a short time before his removal to New York, he made a will bequeathing practically his entire fortune to the institute.

The Rice institute was incorporated in 1891 as the William M. Rice institute for the advancement of literature, science and art, under a liberal charter granting a self perpetuating board of seven life trustees great freedom in the subsequent organization of a non-political and no-sectarian educational institution in the city of Houston, Texas. At present this board of trustees consists of the following members: Jas. Addison Baker, chairman; James Everett McAshan, vice chairman; Emanuel Raphael, secretary; Benjamin Botts Ricee, treasurer; William Marsh Rice, Jr., Caeser Maurice Lombardi and Edgar Odell Lovett, who is also thehead of the faculty.

At the expressed wish of the founder; the elaboration of his plans and their practical execution was not undertaken in his life time. His death in New York, in 1900, under mysterious circumstances, caused a great sensation After a thorough investigation Albert T. Patrick, a lawyer of New York, who had had professional dealings with Mr. Rice, was arrested on thecharge of having murdered the aged philanthropist, with the ultimate objectof obtaining possession of the fortune leftby the latter. After a sensational trial Patrick was found guilty and sentenced to death. The condemned man then began a determined struggle for life and liberty, unparalled in thehistory of American courts. Using every legal weapon of defense that his ingenuity could fine available, Patrick fought his case through court after court, until death sentence was commuetd. Even then he did not rest, but continued his fight for ultimate freedom, butt with out success.

EVIL DOINGS.

No Effort to Establish Crime Victim's Identity.—No effort will be made by Kane county officials to establish the identity of the man whose skeleton was found on the Herman Helper farm, eight miles west of Elgin, by workmen excavating for a basement. "If the man whose skeleton is said to have been found, was murdered, the crime was committed so long ago that to run down the murdered would be impossible,' said a county official.

Send Youthful Elopers Home.—All the romance was knocked out of the intended elopement of Arthur D. Nicholson and May Glenn of Aurora, Ill., when Chicago police intercepted their flight and sent them home. Arthur is nineteen and May sixteen. When they arrived here, Arthur had 35 cents and May 10c. Arthur went into a Chicago pawnshop where he obtained a loan of $3 with which to get a marriage license. It was there the detectives caught the pair. Arthur is a plumber's helper, making $6 a week.

Get $120 in Stamps.—The post office at Clay City was robbed of $120 in stamps by robbers who are supposed to have escaped on an east-bound Baltimore & Ohio train.

A Worthless Character.—Walter Burdette, a young man 23 years old and living in Quincy lets his mother work to support him while he amuses himself robbing. He was arrested a day or two ago and getting away from the officers made a dash for liberty and led his captors a lively chase.

Society for the Humane.—Quincy has a humane society which is doing good work but deplores the fact that while there are many cases of cruelty to animals it is hard to get witnesses to testify.

Slapped His Mother-in-Law.—Joseph Russell of Freeport had an altercation with his mother-in-law over a clock and slapped the lady in the face. He was arrested.

Sues for a Divorce.—Mrs. Mary Y. Antolik of Streator asks for a divorce from her husband John Antolik. She says he set fire to their home which was only saved by the neighbors that he shot at her and horse whipped her.

ANNIVERSARY OF CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Havana, Oct. 10.—This being the forty second anniversary of the beginning of the ten years' war (1868-1878) for Cuban independence, the day was observed as a general holiday. Business in Havana was largely suspended and all public and many private buildings were decorated in honor of the occasion. On the whole, however, the celebration was not attended with as much enthusiasm as usual, owing probably to the present disturbed condition of the country and the uncertainty over the result of the approaching presidential election.

MORTUARY

Maddox-Ticknor.

Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence, 523 South Main street, Miss Blanche Ticknor became the bride of Harry Maddox, Rev. F. A. McCarty, district superintendent of the Methodist church, officiating. The ring ceremony was used and Dr. McCarty was assisted by Rev. G. W. Flagge, pastor of Centenary church. The residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride graduated from the high school with the class of 1910 and last winter she taught in the free kindergarten. For the past few months she has been employed at the store of F. J. Waddell & Co., and by her pleasant manner she has won for herself a host of admiring friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Maddox of Howe street and is engaged in the coal business with his father. Both he and his bride are members of Centenary church and they will have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox left Thursday evening for a brief wedding trip to Springfield and other points and on their return will reside at the home of the bride, 523 South Main street.

Swain.

Mention was made Thursday of the untimely death of Ethe Linda Swain, who passed away Wednesday morning, Oct. 9, at 2 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swain, after an illness of a few months' duration of tuberculosis. She went to Colorado in search of health, but to no avail, returning home Friday last She was always cheerful and hopeful, thinking that to morrow she would be better. Ethe Linda was born May 10, 1892. She united with the Berea Christian church in 1908 and was always a regular attendant till her last illness. She was organist for the Sunday school and was faithful in all her church relations. She leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, one brother and three sisters, Myrtle, Helen and Nelle.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and interment will be at the Berea cemetery.

Marquis.

Rev. C. D. Marquis, a well known minister of the Presbyterian church died Tuesday night at his late home in Chicago. He had served as professor in McCormick Theological seminary and at one time served as moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, one of the highest positions in that organization.

WILL SEEK FUND FOR WOMAN'S COLLEGE

ENDOWMENT MUST BE RAISED BY JUNE 1, 1913.

Rule Promulgated by Methodist Board of Education Makes This Necessary if Institution is to Maintain College Rank—Dr. Hancher Endowment Finance Expert Here For Conference With Trustees.

Dr. J. W. Hancher, a representative of the board of education of the Methodist church and recognized as an expert in matters relating to the securing of endowment, is in Jacksonville a guest at the Woman's college. Today Dr. Hancher will meet with the trustees of the college to confer about the campaign which is to be opened soon to complete the raising of $180,000. This sum is necessary in order to pay certain indebtedness of the college and to give the college the $100,000 endowment which the institution must have by the first of June next if it is to maintain rank as a college.

Dr. Hancher succeeded Dr. J. T. McFarland as president of Iowa Wesleyan university at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., and after a successful administration there became identified with the general educational work of the Methodist church. He had a large place in the effort which raised half a million dollars for Ohio Wesleyan and led the campaign for a like amount for Wilamette university at Salem, Ore. He also was active in a number of Iowa campaigns and did great things for the financial betterment of Kansas Wesleyan at Salina.

It is possible that the good offices of Dr. Hancher will be secured by the trustees of the college in the work of raising the endowment for the college and at any rate his advice will be freely sought. The trustees realize that they have a serious problem confronting them. The Woman's college has prospered amazingly during recent years, largely through the effort of President Harker. While most other institutions have been continually looking for endowment the college has gone ahead and the amount received from tuition and from gifts has enabled it to keep going and to enlarge its facilities from year to year.

Three years ago, however, the institution made the changes in course to entitle it to award degrees and be of the regular college class. To assure the permanency of the institution and to have it accomplish the highest good this step was necessary. From year to year now it is certain that the number of college students will increase and it is more costly by far to provide a faculty and equipment for giving a college education than for merely academic work. The situation therefore is that the college while in a prosperous condition has a continually growing expense account and there can be no increase in revenues until more room is provided for the housing of the students.

The board of education of the M. E. church recognizes the undeniable fact that no college can survive year after year without an endowment. The revenues from tuition from a college are never permanently sufficient to meet expenss and the board therefore determined upon the wise rule that any institution aspiring to the college rank must have at least $100,000 of endowment.

The Woman's college trustees feel the seriousness of the situation and while they have the utmost confidence that friends of the college will rally to its support they nevertheless know that a real crisis in the history of the college confronts them. It is their intention to soon begin the campaign locally for the first question asked those who go elsewhere to solicit aid for the college is: "What has Jacksonville done?"

Word has been received of the serious illness of Mrs. Mary E. De Lapp of La Harpe, Ill., who is suffering from typhoid fever. She has been ill since July. She is a niece of Mrs. Charles Ranson of this city.

F. L. Sharpe has returned from West Baden, Ind., where he went for treatment at a hospital there. He returns feeling greatly helped.

Mrs. J. H. Wells is a patient at Our Savior's hospital and indications are that she has typhoid fever.

BROTHERHOOD HOLDS FIRST FALL MEETING

State Street Men will have Charge of Vesper Service, Which Will Be Held in the Afternoon This Winter

The members of the Brotherhood of the State Street Presbyteran church held their regular meeting Thursday evening with a goodattendance. This was the first regular meeting this fall and the enthusiasm displayed by the members present augurs well for the work of the ensuing year.

The members assembled in the lecture room early in the evening, wherea large table had been arranged and prettily decorated with smilix, salvia and candelebrae. An excellent supper was served by the ladies' aid of the church, of which Mrs. W. D. Doying is chairman and Mrs. C. A. Barnres had charge of the dining room.

After the tables were cleared the meeting was called to order by the president, T. M. Tomlinson, and afteer a discussion the men decided to hold the vesper service at the church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock instead of in the evening. This plan was carrried out last winter and it was the success of these meetings that prompted the men to adopt theplan again this year. Judge C. A. Barnes, Dr. A. B. Morey, Rev. H. D. French, John Trelease of Chicago, who was a guest at the meeting, and T. M. Tomlison gave talks and Prof. W. E. Kritch, accompanied by Prof. E. Munger, gave a violin solo, which was greatly appreciated. Rev. Mr. French gave a vocal solo and was forced to respond with an encore.

Rev. F. A. McCarty, district superintendent of the Methodist church was introduced as the speaker of the evening and gave an address, taking for his subject "In the King's Business. The address was presented in a verry forceful manner and contained a great deal of useful suggestions. Following the address the meeting adjourned, Rev. Mr. McCarty offering the benediction.

STATE CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD SOON.

Children and Prevention of Social Distress are To Be Main Themes When Charities Conference Meets.

Springfield, Oct. 10.—"Children" and "Prevention of Social Distress" are thedominating themes through the program of the seventeenth state conference of charities and correction, announced to day. The conference will meet in Springfield on Oct. 19, 20, 21 and 22. In conjunction with it, there will be the annual meetings of the Illinois Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis; the Illinois Assgociation of County Farm Superintendents and one session of the Illinois Branch of the American Institute of Criminology and Criminal Law.

A list of very distinguished speakers from both Illinois and other states is revealed by the program, and the variety of interests and wide field of activity in which this conference is working was never better reflected.

The largest attendance in the history of the conference is prophesied.

The meetings will be held in the new First Christian church.

The exhibits which will include displays from a number of organizations that have not heretofore shown will form a distinct feature. All the state institutions, many of the associated charities throughout the state, private institutions, the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the Consumers' league, the state board of health, the American Association for the Conservation of Vision, the American Federation of Sex Hygiene, the Illinois State Psychopathic institute, are among those which will exhibit, in addition to which there will be a large number of screens from the Chicago and New York Child Welfare exhibits.

FRIENDS DIFFER POLITICALLY.

New York, Oct. 10.—W. K. Redmond of theBritish parliament and a brother of John Redmond,the Irish leader, left to day for home on the steamship Celtic.

"'Ireland will havehome ruleafter the close of thepresent session of parliament," Mr. Redmond said.

By coincident Walter Long, former unionist chief secretary for Ireland, who has beenlecturing in Canada against homerule, was a passenger. Although political opponents, he and Redmond arefriends.

"'Parliament will never pass the home rule bill in its present form," Mr. Long said.

O'BRIEN MINSTRELS TONIGHT.

The engagement of Neil O'Brien and his great American minstrels at the Grand tonight is anticipated as one of the important events on the theatrical calendar. The star, Neil O'Brien is famous wherever laughter penetrates. For years he was the recognized favorite with Lew Dockstader, and now at the head of his own organization he has unlimited scope and opportunity to give the minstrel stage features, new, novel and entertaining.

FOUND DEAD IN OLD WELL ON FARM

Harry Glassmire of Barry, Pike County, in the Employ of Michael Quin, Southwest of the City, Commits Suicide.

Henry Glassmire, whom it was thought had gone away for a few days' visit, and had been missing since last Saturday, was found dead in an old well on the farm of Michael Quinn, twelve miles southwest of Jacksonville, at 10 o'clock Thurrsday morning. A coroner's inquest was held over the body and it was their opinion that the man committed suicide while temporarily insane.

Mr. Glassmire had been in the employ of Mr. Quinn for the past eight years. He had not worked steady, going away some times for a month or so. He was last seen Saturday morning about 5 o'clock and it is supposed that that was the hour when he committed the deed.

Body Discovered by Chance.

It was only by chance that the body was discovered in the old well, about three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Quinn residence. Mr. Quinn had filled the well up, but it was still seven or eight feet deep with some water in it. He had gone to that part of the pasture in order to get some water for a colt. On pushing the boards back he was astonished to see a man's head just sticking out above the water and mud. His hat was also floating on top of the water and Mr. Quinn recognized that the hat belonged to his employe.

Coroner Holds Inquest.

Coroner Coultas of Winchester was notified and the body was not removed until after he arrived. It was in a bad condition, from the long exposure to the dirt and water. The following jury was empannelled: Marion Sappington, foreman; John McCabe, Fletcher Schofield, G. W. Walker and Edward Quinn. They gave in a verdict that the deceased committed suicide while partially insane.

Formerly Lived at Barry.

Mrr. Glassmire formerly resided in Barry, Pike county, but most of his relatives lived in Nebraska. He was about 50 years of age and unmarried. He was well known in that section of the country and was always considered a capable helper on the farm. The members of the family testified before the veniremen that at times Mr. Glassmire acted peculiarly and they did not appear surprised that he had taken his own life.

Undertaker Sappington took the remains to Winchester, where they will be kept until word can be heard from his relatives. It is probable that the remains will be buried in the Winchester cemetery.

The selection of your Fall Suit and Overcoat should not be potponed. Those who choose first get the cream of the choice. The seasonable weather demands heavier wearables. Perhaps you're going to the FAIR or away from home. In either event, there's decided advantages in your purchases at home. You avoid the confusion and worry; more careful selection, and often a saving in price. Good clothes among strangers is your passport.

Light Weight Top Coats, Slipons and Cravenetes; $5.00 to $25.00.

Sweater Coats---Largest selection ever shown. V neck, Byron and Shawl collars, for Misses, Boys and Men---every color and size, $1.00 to $7.50.

MATRIMONIAL

Stacy-Ridgway.

The marriage of Dr. George Herbert Stacy and Miss Anna Victoria Ridgway was solemnized Wednesday evening at the Stacy home on South Clay avenue, Rev. F. A. Mccarty officiating, only theimmediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present. The groom has always made this city his home and is a successful physician. The bride is a graduate nurse and is also favorably known in the city. Following the marriage a wedding dinner was served and the young people left over the Wabash for a two weeks' wedding trip.

SUITS FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT.

W. N. Hairgrove Institutes Proceedings In Behalf of Mrs. Emily Cox—Other Suits Filed.

A number of important suits were filed in the circuit court Thursday for hearing at the November term of court. W. N. Hairgrove filed a suit in chancery for Mrs.Emily Cox, widow of W. H. Cox, in the form of a petition directed against Julia Woods, Emma Alderson and twenty-seven other parties defendant. The suit involves the dower and homestead of Emily Cox in over $100,000 worth of Morgan county real estate.

The title of another suit filed by Mr. Hairgrove is Mrs. Emily Cox vs. Jerrry Thomas et al. It is a bill in chancery to cancel a deed to real estate. The deed was made by Emily Cox to Jerry Thomas et al and was duly recored in the recorder's office, but it is alleged the deed was never delivered and no title passed to the grantees in said deed and the court is asked toremove the cloud from the title of Emily Cox and declare the deed void.

Two divorce suits were filed by Mr. Hairgrove with titles, Bahan vs. Bahan and Hargrove vs. Hargrove. Frank Bahan is seeking divorce from his wife, Stella Bahan, to whom he was married Dec. 31, 1890, alleging desertion.

Mrs. Maude Hargrove is seeking a divorce from her husband, J. L. Hargrove, whom she charges with infidelity and desertion. They were married Feb. 23, 1905, at Memphis, Tenn.

G. L. Merrill as attorney has filed a partition suit, S. N. Butler et al vs. Rex Ranson et al.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The members of the senior class of Illinois college held their annual banquet at Colonial Inn, Thursday evening. It was a feast royal that was spread before the students, and decoration and appointments were such as to make the gathering one of the most enjoyable ever held by the class.

Warren E. Hall was named as toastmaster and he filled the position in a most capable manner. The various toasts were interspersed with words of wisdom and wit and heard with interest. The program follows:

"For Old and Happy Far-off Things, and Battles Long Ago"—Ernest Berry.

"The Pursuit of Knowledge Under Difficulties"—John M. Widenham.

"On Books, or Work, or Healthful Play"—Howard Ross.

"In Nature's Infinite Book of Secrecy, a Little I Can Read"—Genevieve Clark.

"It is Surely Much Better to Pardon Too Much Than to Condemn Too Much"—Prof. J. G. Ames.

The following were those present, aside from those taking part on the program: Marion Taylor, Nellie Martin, Cecil Clark, Iva Brown, Roscoe Linder, Viggo Jensen, Hume Whitacre and Mrs. J. G. Ames.

Mrs. Lloyd Brown and Miss Margaret Brown were hostesses at a luncheon given Thursday afternoon at Colonial Inn in honor of Miss Harriett Parsons. The Inn was given an added charm by the beautiful decorations. In the dining room white and yellow was used, in the parlor, pink, and in the library green. The decorations of the dining room table were especially beautiful, chrysanthemums, smilax, ferns being used to pretty effect. The gold service was used and the gold idea was also carried out in all the decorations. A nine course luncheon was served. All the appointments were such as to make the occasion one of keen enjoyment.

The guests present included Mrs. F. J. Waddell, Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Mrs. Bent, Miss Marie Chambers, Mrs. T. B. Orear, Mrs. W. H. H. King, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse, Mrs. Charles Cole, Miss Jeanette Russell, Miss Margaret Brown and Miss Marriett Parsons

Miss Mildred Wright was hostess to the members of the Willing Workers of the M. E. church of Murrayville at a linen and china rush in honor of Miss Ethel Crouse at the Wright home Thursday afternoon. Miss Course is to be married Oct. 16 to Mr. Clarence Gay of Barry, Ill. The house was decoated in the class colors, gold and black, and the afternoon was spent in playing games and socially. The hours were from 5 till 7 and during the time palatable refreshments were served. Miss Crouse received a number of useful presents.

The marriage of Mr. Harrison King and Miss Harriett Parsons will be solemnized Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Trinity Episcopal church. A reception will follow at the Parsons home. The following will be members of thebridal party: Matron of honor Mrs. H.H. Bancroft; bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Brown of St. Louis; Miss Jeanette Russell; flower girls, Frances Waddell, Mary Louise Frackelton; ring bearer, Elizabeth Frackelton; best man, Dr. Allen M. King; master of ceremonies, Mr. H. H. Bancroft; ushers, Mr. Richard Rowe, Mr. Marcy Osborne and Mr. George Orear.

The members of the freshman class of the high school were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Carter on Lincoln avenue. The Carter home was very elaborately decorated for the occasion with the class colors, green and white; the school colors, red and white, autumn folaigeand jack'o lanterns. In the corn guessing contest and the indoor athletic meet prizes were won by Paul Strawn Carl Tendick, Lillie Ray Rutledge and Russel Pinkerton. One of the features of the evening's entertainment was a fortune telling booth. During the evening delicious refreshments, in the class colors, were served. The guests of the class were Prof. and Mrs. R. O. Stoops and Miss Day.
